

CODICIL ADDS TO THE TANGLE OVER ESTATE OF MRS. HENDERSON

Bequest Dated Last April Gives Japanese Secretary $200,000 — Provision Made in 1929 Allowed Him $300 a Year.

SHE SOLD HIM $95,000 RESIDENCE FOR $100

Senator's Widow Made So Many Wills That All May Be Set Aside, Leaving Fortune to Foster Granddaughter.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 23.—Jesse Shima, Japanese secretary to the late Mrs. Mary F. Henderson, is provided $200 a year for 10 years under a codicil to a 1927 will of the former Washington social leader filed today in the District of Columbia Supreme Court. The last of the multiple wills of the late Mrs. Henderson, widow, dated April 1929, left $200,000 to Shima, half of it in trust.

In the codicil filed today Shima was referred to by Mrs. Henderson as "an esteemed member of my family." The codicil was dated Jan. 26, 1929.

Municipal records recently disclosed Mrs. Henderson sold to the Japanese for $100 a handsome residence estimated to be worth $95,000. It was once used as a legation.

Under the 1927 will the residue of the estate, estimated at between $500,000 and $5,000,000, would go to Dr. John Harvey Kellogg of the Battle Creek (Mich.) College and Sanitarium, to promote campaigns against "race degeneracy" and to "encourage race betterment through a popular knowledge concerning biological living and eugenics."

The 37-year-old dowager's will, last April left the bulk of the estate to Frances and Henry Arnold of New York, niece and nephew, and expressly disinherited her foster granddaughter, Mrs. Wholean, adopted granddaughter.

Mrs. Wholean is silent. Washington counsel for Dr. Kellogg visited the court today and examined the numerous wills. He declined to say whether legal steps were contemplated.

Mrs. Wholean, who might benefit largely if all the wills were invalidated and the fortune divided under laws of descent, has remained silent since the widow died in Bar Harbor, Me., last week. It has been assumed she would protest the last will, since in one of the first she was generously endowed.

The codicil canceled a $5000 bequest to the American Humane Association of Albany, and directed the executor to spend $500 a year to prevent or lessen cruelty to animals, especially the cruelty and neglect resulting from the use of the steel trap.

It canceled a bequest of $5000 to George W. White, president of the National Metropolitan Bank of Washington, and struck from the will document a provision for the Federation of Women's Clubs to participate in distributing Mrs. Henderson's book, "The Aristocracy of Health," in connection with a general worldwide campaign, through lectures, health drives, "house family contests," and "such other legitimate means as my executors may deem profitable and expedient."

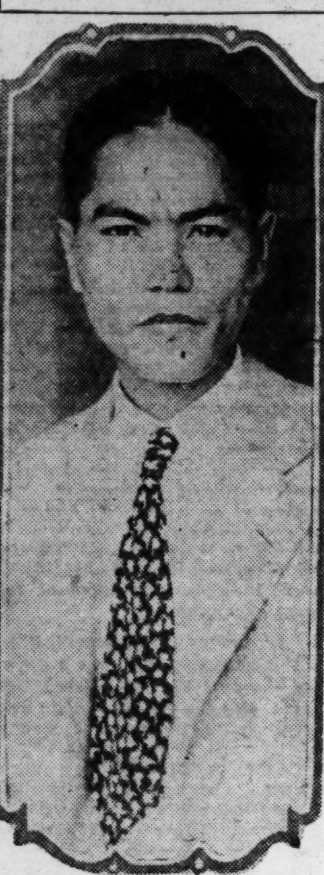

All Wills May Be Invalid.
Because Mrs. Henderson made so many wills in an effort to prevent her disinherited foster granddaughter from obtaining any of her vast estate, attorneys expressed the opinion that all of them might be invalidated and the estate divided under the laws of descent.

In the last will filed for probate, Mrs. Henderson, said her adopted granddaughter, had been disinherited by her husband and the estate divided by her home.

The document said that Beatrice and her husband had been excluded from the Henderson home for several years because Wholean refused to retain a foreign government for him and declined to accept 600 acres of Missouri land.

BOSTELMAN AND PALS GO TO COLORADO PENITENTIARY

St. Louis Gangsters Waive Stay of Execution of Sentences for Robbery of Denver Store.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
DENVER, Colo., July 23.—Henry W. Bostelman, "Cocky" Leonard and Abe Levin, convicted last week of the robbery of the Golden Eagle Dry Goods Co., were taken from the Denver County Jail today to the State Penitentiary at Canon City. They waived a stay of execution granted when they were sentenced last Friday.

Bostelman is under sentence of 35 to 40 years and his accomplices are to serve 30 to 40 years. Escorted by two Denver detectives and three Deputy Sheriffs, the robbers were handcuffed to each other on the trip from jail to the train. Legions were added after they reached the penitentiary.

Guards at the jail were aroused about 2 o'clock this morning when two men were seen loitering near the cell block in which the three St. Louis gangsters were confined. When their presence was noticed, the men ran to a waiting automobile and escaped.

HOT WIND AT EMPORIA, KAN., TEMPERATURE FLUCTUATES

Mercury Rises 14 Degrees in Hour, Drops Back 13, Then Rises Again.
By the Associated Press.
EMPORIA, Kan., July 23.—A hot wind struck Emporia early today, with plants and trees wilting from trees. With the wind came rapidly fluctuating temperatures. The mercury stood at 86 degrees from midnight until 4 a. m., rising to 100 by 5 o'clock and dropping back to 87 at 5:30. At 9 a. m. it had climbed to 96 again.

A tornado cloud which did not drop to earth was seen passing over Hartford, 18 miles south of here, during the hot wind.

10,000 AT GARDEN PARTY GIVEN AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE

Some of Statesmen from Conference There; Raspberries and Cream Served.
LONDON, July 23.—Ten thousand persons thronged the gardens of Buckingham Palace today for a garden party given by King George and Queen Mary. Among the guests were some of the statesmen who have been conferring on the crisis in Germany.

A warm sunny day made the expansive garden with its bright flowers an ideal setting for the function, but bearing in mind the heavy rain which had prepared the royal household staff had prepared the rooms of the palace for a sudden retreat of the guests from the garden.

Raspberries and cream were served in accordance with a custom which has almost become a garden party ritual.

TELLS OF $36 BID FOR $100 BONDS OF MAYFAIR HOTEL

Petitioner Who Asks for Receiver Testifies S. W. Straus & Co. Underwriters, Quoted Price.

CHARGES TRADING IN THE SECURITIES

Lester Bick Asserts Trustees Are Closely Associated With Chicago Concern That Arranged Financing

Testimony in the suit for a receiver for the Mayfair Hotel indicates the present market price of the bonds of the hotel is about $36 compared with $100 at which they were sold when issued seven years ago.

Lester Bick of 5542 Waterman avenue, whose intervening petition asking that a receiver be appointed immediately was on trial yesterday before Circuit Judge Hogan, introduced a letter dated July 9 which he said he had received from S. W. Straus & Co., underwriters of the bond issue, quoting a bid price of $36 for the bonds. Bick had addressed an inquiry to the company as to the possible market for the bonds.

Described at the time of issue as "first mortgage bonds," the bonds were secured by mortgages on the ground, building and equipment of the hotel. The total issue, sold to obtain construction funds, was $1,000,000, of which $1,430,000 is still outstanding.

Bick testified he paid $1000 in 1924 for one of the bonds of that denomination. In his intervening petition he alleged the trustees, William Albert Robinson of Boston, Mass., sailed his 32-foot ketch into this harbor at 4:22 p. m. today, having left New London, Conn., in June, 1928, for a world tour.

His grandmother, Mrs. Ada Kniffler of Milwaukee, Wis., was waiting for him.

He said she, "I've never known you to be so late. Where have you been?"

She had brought along some sandwiches.

Charges Trading in Bonds.
In his petition Bick charged the Straus company was purchasing and trading in the bonds at great reduced prices, to the detriment of the bondholders, and that a bondholders' protective committee, which was active in soliciting owners to deposit their bonds with it, was composed of officers and employees of the Straus company.

These charges were denied in an answer filed on behalf of the trustees by Attorney Theodore Rassieur and in a separate answer by S. W. Straus & Co. It was stated in these answers that the trustees and bondholders' committee were doing everything possible to conserve the property and that they were operating it most economically. It was said a receivership would place an unnecessary expense on the property.

One of the trustees, Orthwein, was examined on the witness stand by Bick's attorney. He was asked about the commission and other charges paid to the Straus company for underwriting the loan, but said he had no knowledge of that matter. He said he considered the trustees were acting in behalf of all the bondholders. The trustees took over the property, he said, under the terms of the deed of trust, because of default in the deposit of about $35,000 for retirement of serial bonds maturing same 1. The interest has been paid.

McBride Estate Intervenes.
The Court received an intervening petition on behalf of the estate of James A. McBride, said to own about $40,000 of stock in the Mayfair Investment Co., holding title to the property. In this petition it was alleged the company operated at a loss of $64,206 in 1930 and $27,037 for the first five months of 1931.

A similar suit is pending involving the Coronado Hotel and was to be tried immediately upon conclusion of the Mayfair case. The same trustees are acting in that case and the bond issues of $2,500,000 were underwritten by S. W. Straus & Co.

Bonds based on these projects were issued in denominations of $100, $500 and $1000 and were sold through the national sales organization of the Straus company.

STORM HERE PUTS RAINFALL FOR JULY INCH ABOVE NORMAL

3.99-Inch Total—Average Exceeded First Time in 19 Months.

Rainfall in St. Louis this month, for the first time in 19 months, has exceeded the average by a generous margin.

At 7 o'clock this morning the rainfall for July was 3.99 inches, while the average for the month is 2.98. A deficiency had been recorded each month since January, 1930, with the exception of last September when the average was exceeded by .05 of an inch. Last July the rainfall was only .25 of an inch for the entire month.

During an electrical storm last night two employees of the White Laundry, 4150 Chippewa street, were injured when lightning demolished a piece of machinery near a window, showering them with broken metal. They were Miss Irene Jansen, 4307 Walsh street, who suffered fractured ribs, and Mrs. Julia Schneider, 4103 Dewey avenue, who was treated for scalp wounds. Damage to the machinery was placed at $300.

In some districts hail fell. At Grand and Washington boulevards a shower of ice pellets shortly after midnight sent pedestrians scurrying for cover.

Aerial transportation was interrupted and departures of air mail planes were delayed. Two Transcontinental & Western Air transport, westbound with passengers and mail, put in at Effingham, Ill., early last night, departing at 5 o'clock this morning for Kansas City and connecting planes for Los Angeles. An eastbound transport, carrying members of the Columbus (O.) American Association baseball team from Kansas City, was halted here for the night, departing early today.

American on World Trip Chided by Grandmother in France for Being Late.

WILFRED NOBLE, France, July 23.—Only 12 minutes behind the schedule he had set for himself, William Albert Robinson of Boston, Mass., sailed his 32-foot ketch into this harbor at 4:22 p. m. today, having left New London, Conn., in June, 1928, for a world tour.

His grandmother, Mrs. Ada Kniffler of Milwaukee, Wis., was waiting for him.

MANIAC KILLS WIFE AND FOUR OTHERS AND INJURES FOUR

Madman Runs Wild With Pistol, Shotgun and Knife in Mining Village Near Leesburg, Pa.

FINALLY WOUNDED IN LEG, CAPTURED

Declared Insane and Scheduled to Go to Asylum, Man Rises Early and Attacks Family.

By the Associated Press.
MERCER, Pa., July 23.—Five persons were killed and four wounded when Marko Demofonti, crazed, attacked members of his family and others in a small mining village near Leesburg, today. Demofonti, 46 years old, who was pronounced insane by physicians yesterday, and was to have been removed to an asylum today, shot and killed his wife and her sister in his home, then went to the street of the village, firing at other villagers.

The dead: Mrs. Marko Demofonti; Mrs. Alfonso Fastetti, her sister; Mrs. Frank Takela, Mrs. Pete C. Cecilian, and Gartano Bevilacqua.

The wounded: Demofonti; Tony Cecilian, 19, seriously wounded; Mrs. Mike Banan, and her daughter, Flora, 12.

Demofonti was shot and wounded in the hip by George Masters, proprietor of the village store. He was brought here for treatment.

The shooting occurred at the No. 2 mine of the Sharon Coal and Limestone Co.

Demofonti had a revolver, a shotgun and a knife. After shooting his wife and her sister with the revolver, he went to an unoccupied house next door and set it afire.

Then, went to the Cecilian home further along the street and shot Mrs. Cecilian and her son with the revolver.

Mrs. Takela and Bevilacqua were in the yards of their homes. Demofonti killed the woman with the revolver and Bevilacqua with the shotgun.

From the homes of Mrs. Takela and Bevilacqua, the men went to the Banan house and attacked Mrs. Banan and her daughter with the knife. The child was stabbed in the abdomen.

Meanwhile, the alarm was spread to the company store. Masters and three other men entered Masters' automobile to search for the demoted man. They met Demofonti striding down the street flourishing the shotgun. When they approached, Demofonti pressed the trigger of the revolver, but it did not discharge. Masters fired three shots, one of them striking Demofonti in the hip.

HOOVER CAN'T PUT EMBARGO ON OIL, ATTORNEY-GENERAL SAYS

Oil, Attorney-General Says

WASHINGTON, July 23.—President Hoover today was informed by Attorney-General Mitchell that there was no authority under the law for the chief executive to place an embargo on oil.

The Attorney-General had been requested by the President to rule on his authority to place such an embargo. The request was made after the President had received many letters and telegrams asking him to take action on the supposition that he had the power to declare an embargo. These letters stated that the oil producing industry was in a demoralized condition and that the importation of additional oil was aggravating the situation.

The Attorney-General in a long ruling informed the President that he was of the opinion that the tariff act had no application to the situation presented and "that Congress has not authorized you to exclude merchandise from entry under these conditions."

POWERS' CONFERENCE ENDS WITH ADOPTION OF PLAN TO BOLSTER GERMAN FINANCES

Official Statement on Steps Taken by Powers at London

LONDON, July 23.
FOLLOWING is the text of the official communique issued this afternoon at the close of the seven-power conference on relief for Germany:

The International conference has concluded its labors. The following declaration was adopted:

The recent excessive withdrawals of capital from Germany have created an acute financial crisis. These withdrawals have been caused by a lack of confidence which is not justified by the economic and budgetary situation of the country.

In order to insure maintenance of the financial stability of Germany, which is essential in the interests of the whole world, the Governments represented at the conference are ready to co-operate so far as lies within their power to restore confidence.

The Governments represented are ready to recommend for the consideration of the financial institutions in their respective countries the following proposals for relieving the immediate situation:

First, that the Central Bank credit of $100,000,000 recently granted to the Reichsbank under the auspices of the Bank for International Settlements, be renewed at maturity for a period of three months.

Second, that concerted measures should be taken by the financial institutions in the several countries with a view to maintaining the volume of credits they already have extended to Germany.

Third, that the Bank for International Settlements should be invited to set up without delay a committee of representatives nominated by the governors of the central banks interested to inquire into the immediate further needs of Germany and to study the possibilities of converting a portion of the short term credits into long term.

The conference noted with interest a communication from Dr. Brüning relative to the joint guarantee recently placed by German industry at the disposal of the gold discount bank.

The conference is of the opinion that a guarantee of this description should make it possible to provide a sound basis for resumption of the normal operations of international credit.

The conference considers that if these measures are carried through they will form a basis for more permanent action to follow.

(The communique was signed by Ramsay MacDonald as president of the conference.)

STIMSON AND MELLON SATISFIED WITH STEPS TAKEN

Secretary of State Says Conference Has Acted to Allay Mistrust So Germany May Get on Feet.

BANKERS ORGANIZING TO SUPPORT CREDIT

Once Panic Is Ended, He Declares, It Will Be Easy to Determine Whether Further Help Is Needed.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, July 23.—Secretary of State Stimson in a formal statement today expressed satisfaction with the results of the seven-Power conference on the German financial crisis.

"Mr. Mellon and I," he said, "are very well satisfied with the labors of the conference. They form a fitting sequel to the effort made by President Hoover to stay the mistrust which was dragging down the finances of Germany and thus endangering the economic condition of the rest of the world."

"Mr. Hoover's effort relieved Germany from the burden of paying $400,000,000 this year and enabled her to set her budget in order."

"In spite of that, however, mistrust remained and creditors continued to withdraw money from German banks. This threatened to cripple German industry. There action was the result of fear of unsettled political as well as economic conditions."

"What is Being Done."
"This conference, participated in by ministers of nearly all the creditor countries, has furnished the means for terminating this mistrust."

"The friendly meeting between the Ministers of France and Germany, unprecedented in its cordiality, has reassured the world in respect of political conditions and has greatly tended to restore the basis of confidence."

"The governments of all these creditor countries also have agreed to use their influence and leadership in allaying the panic which was causing withdrawal of German credit. This course, if successfully carried out, will leave Germany in possession of the capital on which her factories and industries depend."

"Most of this money comes from America and our banks, under the leadership of our Federal Reserve system, already have been organizing to provide the necessary funds against withdrawal of these funds."

"The Bank of England has been taking similar steps to preserve the level of British credit. Similar action now promised in the conference from all of the other creditor countries will greatly help to end the panic and give Germany a breathing spell to reorganize her resources."

"Once that panic is ended it will be easy to determine whether any further capital is necessary and resolutions of the conference provide machinery for making the necessary investigation and study in this matter."

"We believe it is probable that once confidence is restored it will be found that Germany will be able to recover her equilibrium on the basis of her own resources and such assistance as will readily be available. But in any event we have provided the machinery necessary to meet that situation however it may develop."

Mellon's Statement.
Secretary of the Treasury Mellon expressed his satisfaction at the outcome.

"I am satisfied that the conference has achieved results which will be most helpful in restoring the financial stability of Germany," he said.

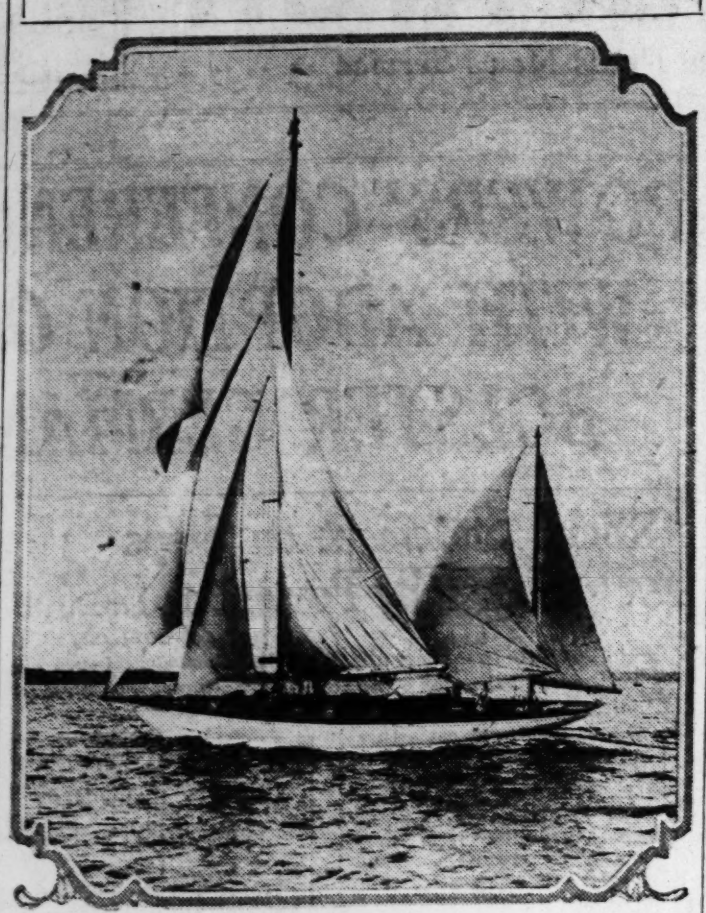

"That stability has been shaken by a lack of confidence which is not justified by Germany's internal economic situation."

"German industries are well organized, and, given time and reasonably favorable conditions, will again assert themselves and show the inherent strength of Germany's industrial arm."

"In proposing a one-year extension of war debts and reparations President Hoover has provided a necessary breathing spell, and in carrying his proposal into effect the creditor nations have relieved the German budget of heavy burdens during the period of recuperation."

"The machinery set up by the conference will greatly assist the German Government in meeting its immediate difficulties. It will also permit a study as regards further capital and assistance which may be required for rehabilitation of Germany's industry."

NEW YORK-HAVANA SPEED RECORD REGAINED BY HAWKS

Makes Flight in 27 Minutes Less Than Time of James G. Hall.

By the Associated Press.
HAYANA, July 23.—Capt. Frank Hawks landed here at 11:08 Eastern standard time this morning completing a flight from New York by way of Wilmington and Miami. Hawks regained the speed record from New York, knocking 27 minutes off the time of James G. Hall, who beat Hawks' previous record last Saturday.

Hawks landed in Havana eight hours and eight minutes after leaving New York and spent 32 minutes for refueling at Wilmington, N. C., and Miami on the way. He was in the air only seven hours and 26 minutes. Hall made his flight nonstop, so his elapsed time and flying time were the same.

Hawks took off on his return trip at 12:33 p. m.

BRIDGE PLAY-OFF ORDERED IN NATIONAL MIXED CONTEST

Protest by W. E. McKenney Causes Order After Award Had Been Made to New York Team.

By the Associated Press.
ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 23.—A protest by William E. McKenney of Cleveland, secretary of the American Bridge League, against awarding of a championship bridge team, last night resulted in an order for a play-off in the national mixed team tournament, previously awarded to a New York foursome.

McKenney said one set of hands had been mixed up and a play-off was announced for today among the leading contenders.

McKenney's team first was announced as finishing one point behind the New York team. His partners are Mrs. H. D. Stahl, Pittsburgh; Miss Margaret Beech, Pittsburg; and E. M. Baker, Cleveland.

TWO MEN INJURED WHEN AUTOMOBILE HITS TRAIL
Both Jumped From Machine, but Cars Hit One After the Other.

Two men were injured, one of them seriously, when an automobile in which they were riding ran into the side of an Illinois Terminal train at a crossing on Broadway, in Venice, Ill., shortly after noon today.

Simon George, 22 years old, of Tamaroa, Ill., the driver, suffered a broken right arm and head injuries, and Carl Wagner, 23, of Duquoin, cuts and bruises. Both leaped from the automobile as they saw it would strike the train, but George was struck by the train after he had leaped.

MOONEY CASE WITNESS DIES
Frank C. Oxman Was Pioneer Oregon Cattle Man.

By the Associated Press.
BAKER, Ore., July 23.—Frank C. Oxman, pioneer Oregon cattle man, and witness in the Thomas J. Mooney bombing trial at San Francisco, died at his home at Duane yesterday of heart disease. His testimony that he saw Mooney and Warren K. Billings at the scene of the Preparedness day parade bombing in San Francisco in 1915 was regarded as having been material in Mooney's conviction. He testified his suspicions were aroused by their actions, and he wrote down the license number of their automobile.

Several years later Oxman was arrested on a perjury charge when F. E. Rigall, Grayville, Ill., charged that Oxman had attempted to persuade him to give false testimony against Mooney. Friends of the convicted men were said to have sworn to a statement saying Oxman was not in San Francisco on the day of the bombing. Oxman was tried and acquitted.

15 Years for Illegal Operation.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 23.—Dr. Thomas J. Ney was convicted yesterday of murder by an illegal operation and sentenced to 15 years in prison. Dr. Ney was charged with the death of Miss Elma Brompe and also is charged with the death in similar manner of Miss Eunice McElroy. The case decided yesterday had been continued 25 times before being brought to trial.

MOVE TO CONVENT REICHTAG BEATEN FOR SECOND TIME

Council of Elders, However, Is by No Means So Strongly Pro-Government as It Was Last Week.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, July 23.—The Reichstag Council of Elders today voted down a motion for the convocation of the Reichstag, thereby giving the Brüning Government another breathing space in which to negotiate for assistance for Germany.

The motion was offered to the council, which is the Steering Committee of the Reichstag, by the Communists, Nationalists and National Socialists. Its proponents were able to muster only 243 of the necessary 267 votes, but even so the council seemed by no means so strongly pro-Government as it was last week when there was another attempt to force through an extra session of the Reichstag.

Gottfried Treviranus, Cabinet Minister without portfolio, appealed to the elders to bear in mind that the London negotiations were still under way and that after Brüning returned home important relief might be obtained quickly.

He told them that Finance Minister Hermann Dietrich was scheduled to go to London for important negotiations next week and that it would be most inopportune to convene the Reichstag at this time.

The newspapers meanwhile, continue comments verging on the pessimistic regarding the conference in London. The Berliner Zeitung said: "It is clearly realized now that the London conference will not bring the help which German industry needs," adding it is becoming more apparent daily that a Franco-German understanding is more imperative than ever.

Foreign Office officials express resentment at the attitude of the press, asserting the newspapers are giving the impression that they are in closer touch with the actual situation than are Government officials.

The people, on the whole, are giving no demonstration that they are worried about the way things are going. There are no mobs around the newspaper bulletin boards, and the banks have needed no protection against panicky depositors.

Nevertheless, many persons prominent in business and diplomatic circles admit frankly that they can see no constructive help coming from the conference at London.

The cabinet this morning approved a slight relaxation of the bank regulations to permit withdrawal of 10 per cent of deposits up to a maximum of $50 from checking accounts and $750 from saving accounts.

Powers Adopt Plan to Bolster German Finances

iousness of the German emergency.

This afternoon all the delegates attended the royal garden party at Buckingham Palace.

The French representatives will go back to Paris tomorrow and the Belgians will depart tonight with the Germans.

Premier Laval of France, in one of the speeches which wound up the conference, congratulated the delegates on their frankness and spirit of co-operation, with particular compliments for the assistance given by Stimson and Mellon.

"I am very well satisfied with the result of this meeting," he said.

Breathing Thanks Americans.
Chancellor Brüning, in his speech, expressed appreciation for the efforts to aid his country, and thanked the Americans especially.

Stimson emphasized the significance of the Franco-German conversations at Paris last week and described the negotiations in which he played so important a part as a great event which would re-establish world confidence.

Dino Grandi for Italy, Ambassador in London, and Premier Renk of Belgium expressed similar sentiments. Prime Minister MacDonald thanked the delegates all round.

The Prime Minister said, "We are very well pleased. An agreement between seven Powers is not easy to get, but it has been reached and it will be of greatest importance in helping Germany."

The Chancellor and Foreign Minister Julius Curtius are to have a private talk tonight with Secretaries Stimson and Mellon, who will be their guests at dinner.

"It looks pretty bad," one of the financiers with the German delegation said. "Help in the form of cash is not forthcoming, and the Chancellor's position will be very difficult when he returns to Berlin."

Stimson himself told a correspondent as he left the Foreign Office that he was "thoroughly satisfied."

Still Hopes for New Loan.
Chancellor Brüning, the Associated Press is informed, has by no means abandoned his efforts to obtain a new loan. He was prepared this evening to lay before Stimson and Mellon a plan for a new loan which he believes was not sufficiently explained when it was announced in Berlin by Dr. Hans Luther, president of the Reichsbank.

The plan which Dr. Luther announced consists of a pledge by 1932 of Germany's largest industrial, banking and shipping concerns jointly to underwrite a deficiency guarantee of $125,000,000. The firms which signed the deficiency guarantee pledge, as accepted by the German Government and embodied in a special emergency decree, command working assets of many millions of marks.

It is understood the German delegation only now realize that apparently the full significance of the deficiency guarantee was not made clear to the bankers consulted by Dr. Luther here, at Paris and at Basel. Dr. Brüning will endeavor to repair that deficiency at the dinner this evening.

Dr. Curtius expressed deep appreciation in an interview for the part which the United States played in the seven-Power conference just ended.

"It seems to me," he said, "that I ought to confine my comment to the political views of the German delegation. From that standpoint the conference demonstrated international solidarity in a manner which was truly moving and most promising for the future."

"Into this solidarity America is growing ever more intimately, not only through her objective co-operation now but also through her readiness to co-operate in the future. This attitude brought warm words of thanks from the French Premier at the end of the conference."

"So far as German-American relations in this conference are concerned, even in Paris our delegation took every opportunity to make contacts with your excellent American statesmen. During the conference several times and all of us could chat in a friendly personal way with your representatives. Tonight we shall have the pleasure of entertaining them at dinner."

"Above all we are grateful that Mr. Stimson, whose personal plans already have been badly upset, nevertheless is willing to come to Berlin."

"We highly appreciate this decision to visit us and we are grateful for the promised visit of the British statesmen. We regard it as a public gesture of America's readiness to stand by us in a helpful manner."

Dr. Curtius emphasized his belief that the first paragraph of the official communiqué issued at the close of the conference is the most important from the German viewpoint in that it testifies to the basic soundness of Germany's economic and budgetary situation.

Long-Term Loan Impossible.
The German hope was that they would leave with a long-term credit of about $175,000,000 to bolster their economic system and with a renewal of existing short-term credit.

its. But at a dinner conference with Prime Minister MacDonald and Foreign Secretary Henderson, they were persuaded that such a loan was impossible under present conditions, and they withdrew their request.

The American position was that United States banks would give financial aid to Germany, but only if the banks of all the other nations shared the burden. Otherwise, the problem was to stop the flight of foreign credits from the Reich, render necessary immediate aid, and await improvement in the situation.

This idea was held also by the British and, according to Secretary of State Stimson, was put before the conference in its first form by MacDonald and then, it evolved gradually through the suggestions of various delegations.

The French attitude, it was known, was to show the conference the help of measures now announced. France, it was pointed out, has weathered a financial crisis during and since the war which differed little in its outward aspects from that which Germany is now facing. But Frenchmen, it was said, "tightened their belts" and came through and they now expect Germany to do no less.

Chancellor Brüning told the House of Commons today that the present was no time for parliamentary discussion of the international situation revolving about Germany. Answering a suggestion that such a discussion take place next week, he said he did not think that would be in the public interest, in view of the delicacy of the present financial situation.

Meager Achievements.
Under the caption, "A Lost Opportunity," the Times said today there will be general disappointment at the meager achievements of the conference.

"From the outset," the paper declared, "the conference was precluded from grappling with the fundamental factors responsible for the crisis in Germany. So long as the United States declined to discuss war debts and France declined to discuss reparations, it was clear no real progress could be made towards permanent settlement of the economic problem of Germany."

The Times limited the decision to maintain Germany's existing foreign credits was of great importance, but asked, what of the future?

"For a moment," the newspaper continued, "France and the United States have succeeded in evading the real issues, but they cannot evade much longer. It is useless to deny the urgent necessity of finding a more permanent settlement of Germany's problems."

The Daily Express said the real question of a loan to restore Germany's financial equilibrium was yet to be met.

"In the end," the paper continued, "it will fall on Great Britain and America to raise it and a new triple alliance—Germany, Great Britain and America—will begin to take form."

Britain and America—will begin to take form."

The Daily Mail's diplomatic commentator contended that the holding of the conference was sufficient to restore Germany. He declared the withdrawal of gold from Germany had ceased and that a large loan no longer was necessary.

The French delegation considered the vast improvement in Franco-German relations as one of the most striking results of the conference. Those in close touch with French official circles here insist that, even if the actual results of the conference, on paper, do not show that the French and German viewpoints have progressed closer to each other, the conference held between the statesmen of the two nations has been productive of much understanding.

Foreign Minister Briand of France and Foreign Minister Curtius of Germany had tea together yesterday in Curtius' rooms at the hotel, and this was cited as evidence of the friendly spirit that has grown up.

It was believed the French delegation takes the view that Germany should be able to pull through her immediate crisis without the help of measures now announced. France, it was pointed out, has weathered a financial crisis during and since the war which differed little in its outward aspects from that which Germany is now facing. But Frenchmen, it was said, "tightened their belts" and came through and they now expect Germany to do no less.

Answering a suggestion that such a discussion take place next week, he said he did not think that would be in the public interest, in view of the delicacy of the present financial situation.

Castle Hopes Agreement Will Have Immediate Effect.
WASHINGTON, July 23.—American officials regarded the agreement reached at the London conference today as an important step toward solution of Germany's emergency economic problem.

Acting Secretary of State Stimson, after talking by trans-Atlantic telephone with Secretary Stimson in London, expressed hope that the agreement would have a prompt and immediate effect.

Stimson made known his intention of proceeding to Berlin for further conferences with German officials.

One of the Secretary's principal purposes in going to Europe was to discuss the forthcoming general disarmament conference at Geneva.

Adams Captured by Police.
Apprised of the shooting, police searched for Adams and found him early today as he drove up to the home of Frank V. Kennedy. He was placed in the Alton County Jail.

Lloyd Adams, to whose home 12 miles south of here Adams drove after the shooting, was held as a material witness. Krouse bandaged Adams' neck and then drove him to Fort Wayne, where they were taken into custody.

Mal Howard Long, Deputy Prohibition Administrator for Northern Indiana, arrived today to make an investigation of the shooting. Arrival of Oliver M. Loomis, United States District Attorney for Northern Indiana, is awaited before Adams will be given a hearing before United States Commissioner William D. Remmel.

Adams was released from the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., last January. He had been sentenced by Judge Slick at South Bend, Oct. 1, 1929, on his plea of guilty to three Federal prohibition law charges.

Informers Ask for Protection.
Green, the informer who helped set the trap for Adams last night, was treated at a hospital, then he telephoned officers at Portland, asking that a guard be stationed at his home to protect members of his family from possible attacks. Portland records showed he had been convicted on 21 counts of liquor violation and had served the sentences concurrently.

Green and Agent Gilbert spent an hour at Adams' home early last night, arranging for purchase of a load of liquor. They assigned the meeting place, near Stelhorn Bridge on the lower Huntington road a mile south of here. When Adams drove up, agents closed in. Adams drew a revolver, and the shooting began.

Gilbert fired the first shot, according to Green and Gettle, after Adams said "I'm going to kill you."

Jerry Sierro, 40, of Wayne, was driving past the cars as the shooting started. He turned about and saw most of it.

"I saw one man shooting at two others who were in the road," Sierro said. One, who I learned was Wilson, fell to the pavement, and as the others turned, Adams followed them, shooting. After they fell he walked back to Wilson, apparently reloading his pistol and then fired four or five shots into Wilson as he lay on the ground.

Didn't Think He Would Shoot.
Gettle said he tried to talk Adams out of shooting as they stood between his car and their own. "He said he covered when we stepped from the car, but we didn't believe him because of his shot," said Gettle. "We were in our shirt sleeves and because of that had no chance. He stood there without making a move as Adams shot him. Even after he shot Wilson, we tried to talk to him, but he seemed to be crazy."

Wilson had been in Government service three years, and he served at Springfield, Ill., Chicago and Indianapolis, where he testified last year in the Government's case against 18 Indianapolis policemen charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

SAYS C. F. BUCK WON'T TAKE REVENUE POST

Chicago Daily News Asserts New Illinois Collector Will Be Chosen Soon.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, July 23.—The Daily News says today it had been informed Clarence F. Buck of Monmouth will not take the office of Collector of Internal Revenue for the northern district of Illinois to which President Hoover appointed him last April, and that announcement of another appointee will be made in Washington soon.

Buck, recommended by Senator C. F. Glen, to succeed Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge, who resigned, has never said why he has not assumed the office or whether he would in the future.

Glen and Gov. Emmerson conferred here yesterday. Glen denied they discussed the collectorship.

Gregory Van Meter, former city inspector, assistant treasurer of Cook County public administrator, is supported for the position by George F. Harding, leader of the Chicago Emmerson Republican faction, the News says. Van Meter has been manager of the real estate property of the Harding family since 1886.

GIVEN NO CHANCE, EMBEZZLER TAKES $30,000 BY FRAUD

Leslie J. Meyer, Former Bookkeeper and Jazz Band Leader, Held in Realty Firm Forgery.

Leslie J. Meyer, former bookkeeper by day and thumper of drums by night in his own orchestra, confessed embezzlement of $30,000 from his employers six years ago and pleaded for another chance.

He got it, and improved the opportunity to forge checks aggregating $30,000. Assistant Circuit Attorney Lennan disclosed today with the announcement that he would issue at least four and probably six forged warrants against the musical accountant.

Meyer, who abandoned jazz and bookkeeping 18 months ago when his second defalcation was discovered, was arrested last night in the combination cigar store and collection agency he operates at 1509 Hamilton avenue.

"I don't know anything about the charges," he told reporters. "You say the Circuit Attorney has a confession bearing my signature? I don't know anything about that, either. That all happened about two years ago, when everything came down on me at once. I was running the Gingham Inn and working for the Orson E. & R. G. Scott Real Estate Co. I lost my job, the roadhouse failed and was sold and my wife and baby left me, all at once. I might have signed anything. I don't remember."

He Gets Another Chance. However, Orson Scott remembers. He recalls the touching scene when Meyer, "for the sake of my wife and baby," begged to be taken back to work. This was in 1925. An audit had just disclosed the bookkeeper had used the company's money to promote a dance hall at Castlewood. The dance hall failed.

Scott remembers, too, the way "Les" Meyer squared his shoulders and talked about reformation when he learned the Scott brothers weren't going to prosecute. Young Meyer—he is now 34—went back to work, turning over part of his wages each week to pay off the embezzlement. Penitent, he stayed away from orchestras.

But the moan of the saxophone lured him again, and he became the manager of a night club, the Gingham Inn, on the Manchester road. In addition to running the place, he led the orchestra and played the drums.

Used Money for Roadhouse. At the real estate company, Meyer was superintendent of maintenance, a carefully chosen position in which he handled no money. However, from time to time he was called upon to issue checks for improvement and maintenance of the properties under his control. Instead of turning them over to the proper persons, Meyer forged indorsements, cashed the checks and used the money to keep his unprofitable roadhouse from closing, Scott said.

The second defalcation was discovered and Meyer was discharged. The Inn went into receivership and was sold. And Meyer went into the collection agency business.

According to Scott, the forged signatures on the checks were guaranteed by a bank, where Meyer kept the Gingham Inn account. Suit was filed against the bank by the real estate company, and Scott continued, "it was up to them to prosecute. They didn't. We got tired of seeing this fellow go around unpunished, so yesterday we told the Circuit Attorney what he had done."

Inspector Gets $400 Ring. Mrs. Mrs. MacAnally, living in an apartment house at 3561 Itasca street, lost a $400 diamond ring and her purse containing $2 yesterday when she admitted to her apartment a young man who said he had come to inspect the plastering. The man said a real estate company had sent him and he went about tapping the walls with a broomstick. He then arranged for Mrs. MacAnally to tap the wall in one room while he went into the next to listen. He left the house after having pronounced the walls in good condition, and she discovered her loss soon afterward.

TEARFUL PLEA SAVES THIEF FROM EIGHTH PRISON TERM

65-Year-Old Man Sentenced to Year in Workhouse for Jewelry Burglary.

Willis Harrington, 65 years old, who has been in prison seven times, pleaded guilty of burglary and larceny before Circuit Judge Ryan today. After a long and tearful plea, he was sentenced to a year in the workhouse.

"Please don't send me back to prison," Harrington said. "I'm too old to go back there and besides it isn't safe. After I got out the last time I exposed a dope situation in the prison and if I go back there are people there who will make it tough for me."

The Judge, after short consideration, assessed the workhouse sentence.

Harrington stole jewelry valued at $20.50 from the Euclid Jewelry Co., 30 South Euclid avenue, June 25, last.

TUBERCULOSIS DAY GAME POSTPONED TO TUESDAY

Rain Has Twice Prevented Benefit; Boston to Be Opponent on New Date.

Continued showers today caused postponement of the seventeenth annual Tuberculosis Day baseball game, originally scheduled for yesterday, which was to be played between the Cardinals and the Cardinals.

It was announced at noon that the entire program, including preliminary and post-game performances, will take place, will be postponed Tuesday. The Tuberculosis and Health Society hopes to obtain $35,000 to finance its community service this fall and winter.

$130,501 PAID INTO COURT FOR SHERIDAN AV. WIDENING

Amount Is to Meet Possible Damage Claims; Work Likely to Begin Soon.

Preparatory to widening Sheridan avenue for six blocks, between Jefferson and Easton avenues, probably this fall, the Commissioner's office today paid into court $130,501 for satisfaction of possible damage claims by property owners.

The city's share in the amount was $23,685.86, and the remainder was paid by the State. The city took a 5 per cent discount on the tax bills in disposing of them to the Stifel Nicolaus & Co. investment house.

The widening of the street, for which an ordinance was passed in 1924, is designed to give a connection between Easton and Cass avenues, with the entrance into Cass at a point near Jefferson.

The street will be widened from 60 to 80 feet. From Easton to Garrison avenue, 10 feet will be taken off of both sides of the street; from Garrison to Elliott avenue, the entire amount of the widening will be taken off of the east side of the street, and for the rest of the distance off of the north side.

but demanded property at Bar Harbor. In a will dated Nov. 17, 1930, Mrs. Henderson cut off Mrs. Whelan with $100, although a trust of $365,000 she established earlier for her granddaughter was held to be irrevocable. Beatrice at that time opposed the dowager's attempts to give a building to the government for a Vice Presidential residence.

Mrs. Henderson received the estate through the will of her husband, a Senator from Missouri and their son who died several years ago. In 1924 she secretly adopted Mrs. Whelan and made her heir at law. If her last will is held invalid, Mrs. Whelan probably will receive most of the estate.

Municipal Opera Rained Out. Last night's performance at the Municipal Opera was canceled about a half hour after the usual starting time when it became apparent that rain would prevent the show. A downpour started a little after 8 o'clock, with the result that only about 4000 persons were at the theater.

It was the second time the current operations on the checks were canceled. The opening performance on Monday night being canceled. In 55 nights so far this season, only three performances have been canceled in advance on account of the weather. Rain checks may be exchanged for tickets to subsequent performances.

LINDELL UNION CIRCLE DEFENDED BY KINSEY

Favors "More Beauty, Less Speed" in Answering Criticism That It Is Auto Hazard.

A defense of the Lindell-Union traffic circle on the esthetic grounds was issued today by President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service.

"As between a little more beauty and a little less speed," Kinsey asserted, "I vote for beauty."

The esthetic value of the circle has been questioned, and the swerve required to navigate the pass around the center circle ended in minor accidents to eight automobiles on the night the new viaduct over the Washburn tracks was opened. The center circle, previously adorned only with traffic lights, recently has been converted into a funeral mound, and Kinsey announced that it would be made into a fountain at the point of obtaining a statue for it.

Kinsey said plans had been approved from the traffic standpoint by the city traffic engineer, and that the standpoint of beauty by the Municipal Art Commission. Harland Bartholomew, engineer of the City Plan Commission, questioned recently by the Post-Dispatch, said the City Hall had ignored the Plan Commission's written protest against the circle as of few esthetic possibilities and considerable hazard to traffic.

Remarking that there seemed to be "a lot of misunderstanding," Kinsey said, "It is not obvious to any unbiased observer that any motorist, driving sanely, with due regard to the law and the rights of others, may pass around the circle in absolute safety. It is not fool-proof, however, and will drive drivers, who disregard the law, may come to grief. Will anyone contend that such drivers should be given primary consideration in the design of public works?"

"The streets of St. Louis are woefully bare of any attempts at embellishment. The intersection in question presented a splendid opportunity to get out of the rut of ugliness we have been wallowing in. Some months ago, we were almost at the point of being able to announce the gift of a beautiful fountain to adorn the circle; unfortunately, this was checked by circumstances now unnecessary to relate."

"It is the present plan to embellish the circle with an attractive flowerbed, until the fountain project can be revived."

"It will be a sad thing for St. Louis if it must forego attempts to make our streets more attractive in order that anyone may drive as he pleases, regardless of the law or the rights of others."

Story of Four-Year Fight. The council's contest with the Lone Star began four years ago when the old Fort Worth Gas Co. a subsidiary of the Lone Star, attempted to raise its domestic rates on the ground that the existing rates were confiscatory. The case went before the Texas Railroad Commission, which found for the city, then into the United States courts, the last of which, a three Judge statutory court, found for the gas company.

This time, however, we were almost at the point of being able to announce the gift of a beautiful fountain to adorn the circle; unfortunately, this was checked by circumstances now unnecessary to relate."

Fort Worth Council Prepares To Provide City-Owned Gas Plant Voted by People After Hot Fight

Plans, if Possible, to Condemn Privately Owned Works—Holds Conditional Contract With Another Concern for Supply.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. FORT WORTH, Tex., July 23.—The Fort Worth City Council will meet Friday to plan its next move towards embarking in the business of distributing natural gas to householders and industries here.

The electorate Tuesday voted the council authority to contract for a supply of gas and to issue revenue bonds to finance the acquisition of the local properties of the Lone Star Gas Co. or the construction of a new distribution system. This power was granted the council by an amendment to the city charter. The gas amendment carried at the polls by a majority of 2,232 votes. A total of 14,637 votes was cast. The election was ordered by referendum petitions.

It is planned to condemn by law, if possible, the Fort Worth properties of the Lone Star, a transporting and distributing corporation serving approximately 200 towns and cities in Texas and obtaining its gas from wells in Texas and Oklahoma.

The election was contested bitterly. A long campaign for and against municipal ownership was waged. A majority of the voters objected to the domestic rate charged here by the Lone Star, which is $1.25 a thousand cubic feet for the first thousand and 67 1/2 cents a thousand net for all additional fuel.

Story of Four-Year Fight. The council's contest with the Lone Star began four years ago when the old Fort Worth Gas Co. a subsidiary of the Lone Star, attempted to raise its domestic rates on the ground that the existing rates were confiscatory. ## GRAFT WITNESS GETS 30 DAYS FOR CONTEMPT

New York Veterinarian Refuses to Tell With Whom He Split $1,000,000 Fees.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, July 23.—Dr. William F. Doyle, veterinarian who received fees of more than $1,000,000 in eight years of practice before the Board of Standards and Appeals yesterday was ordered to serve a 30-day sentence for refusing to tell with whom he split those fees.

Supreme Court Justice Black dissipated a writ of habeas corpus under which Doyle was at liberty in $25,000 bail and remanded him to the custody of a Deputy Sheriff. He later admitted the veterinarian to a new bail of $25,000 until today to permit him to obtain a stay of sentence.

The Justice first asked Doyle if he would yield from his refusal to answer questions asked by Samuel Seabury, chief counsel of the Legislative Committee investigating the city administration. His attorney, Samuel Fall, declared the veterinarian would stand on his refusal to answer.

Doyle was held in contempt after the committee had voted five to four to cite him for refusal to answer 20 questions dealing with his practice before the board. Doyle won a stay of execution of his sentence today from Appellate Justice Henry L. Sherman. The stay calls for argument before the appellate division Monday.

WAGES TO BE CUT BY MO.-PAC. AUG. 1

It Applies to Officers and Clerical Forces but Not to Train Crews.

Reductions in wages affecting officers and clerical forces of the Missouri Pacific Railroad will be made effective Aug. 1.

Heretofore all employees have worked five and one-half days a week. Beginning in August, union employees will work and receive pay for only five days a week. Officers and unorganized workers will continue to work five and one-half days a week with compensation reduced 16 2-3 per cent. About 2500 employees in the St. Louis area are affected. Of these about 800 are officers and those employed in supervisory capacities.

At the general offices this statement was issued:

"Because traffic volume on the Missouri Pacific lines has not returned to normal as had been hoped and expected, temporary voluntary salary and wage adjustments affecting officers and clerical forces will be made effective Aug. 1. The adjustments, which are of a temporary nature, amount to the equivalent of one day's pay a week and this will avoid the necessity of a force reduction."

"The Missouri Pacific is the last St. Louis railroad to be forced to take some similar action, and it had been the hope of the management that it would not be necessary. General staff officers unanimously voted to voluntarily apply the temporary adjustment to their own salaries in a general conference called for the purpose of considering the situation."

"The adjustments apply to general, staff, division and supervisory officers throughout the entire system organization and to clerical forces, both union and non-union. The adjustment does not apply to employees in train service because their pay virtually is on a piece-work basis."

At the Washburn general offices it was stated several employees had been discharged in the last year but no reduction had been made in working hours or wages. The Frisco, Cotton Belt and Missouri-Kansas-Texas adopted the five-day week and corresponding pay reductions a year ago and Cotton Belt employees were reduced in number by the consolidation of departments.

OKLAHOMA INDIANS IN RIVER ASK GREAT SPIRIT FOR RAIN

Tom Toms Beat at Ancient Ceremony; Red Men Congregate in Night.

By the Associated Press.
HOLDENVILLE, Ok., July 23.—Standing waist deep in water and mud of the receding rivers of Hughes County, as tom toms beat, Indians are petitioning the Great Spirit to send rain.

Prayers, unknown to the white man but voiced generations ago by the Indians, are offered as the red men gather several times each week on the banks of the South Canadian and Little Rivers to implore the Great Spirit for rain to save their crops from drought. The ancient custom is being witnessed for the first time in years. The red men congregate in the dead of night, coming in large groups from farm houses and some from pretentious homes. Usually the medicine man of the tribe, dressed in spectacular fashion, leads the rites. After camp fires have been lighted, the men wade into the water and to the muffled tom toms beat on the water and pray in their native tongue for rain. Women and children line the banks, keeping the fires blazing.

BOY, 9, DIES OF TETANUS AFTER INJURY TO FINGERS

Robert Fischer Hurt July 16 When Roller Coaster Ran Over His Hand.

Robert Fischer, 9 years old, 718 Dodridge street, died of tetanus at City Hospital last night. William Fischer, the father, took the boy to the hospital yesterday, explaining that on July 16 his son suffered an injury to four fingers when a coaster wagon ran over his hand. Previously the boy had been injured in a fight with two small girls, the elder Fischer said. Home remedies were applied both times. Physicians expressed the opinion that the tetanus infection probably resulted from the injury caused by the wagon.

POPE ASKED TO MAKE MOTHER SETON A SAINT

Delegation From United States Presents Petition Bearing 150,000 Names.

By the Associated Press.
VATICAN CITY, July 23.—A petition bearing the signatures of 150,000 Americans asking that Mother Elizabeth Seton, founder of the Sisters of Charity in the United States, be made the first American saint, was presented to Pope Pius XI today.

Fifty American priests, nuns and Catholic alumnae, led by Father Joseph B. Code of St. Ambrose College, Davenport, Ia., gave the Pope the huge scroll.
Speaking in English to the Pope, Father Code, author of a biography of Mother Seton, recalled that the cause of beatification was introduced in 1907 by Pope Pius X. "Mother Seton inaugurated practically every work of Catholic social welfare in the United States," Father Code said. "Because she opened the first free school for children she has been given the title of patroness of the parochial school system in the United States. Because she sent sisters to take charge of the first Catholic orphanage in the country, her place among the homeless little ones of Christ is secure. Because her spiritual daughters opened the first Catholic hospital in the United States, her memory is venerable wherever sickness and suffering receive ministrations."

The Pope replied that he appreciated the zeal which brought the petitioners thousands of miles and asked for a copy of Father Code's preamble, saying he would read it at leisure. He imparted the apostolic blessing on the whole order founded by Mother Seton.

Among the signers of the petition are Cardinals Hayes of New York, Dougherty of Philadelphia and O'Connell of Boston, the Archbishops of Dubuque and Portland, and the Bishops of Brooklyn, Rochester, Little Rock, Davenport, Des Moines, Lincoln, Neb., Omaha, Sioux City, Ia., Grand Island, Neb., and Cheyenne, Wyo.

Among presenters of the petition were representatives of Sisters of Charity mother houses in New York, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Greenburg, Pa., Convent Station, N. J., Emmitsburg, Md., and Halifax N. S.

YOUTH SHOT WHEN HE STOPS TO AID MOTORISTS IN DITCH
Men in Stolen Auto Then Escape in Machine of Richard Sparks.

Richard Sparks, 19-year-old welder, Brooks, Ill., was shot in the right shoulder and robbed of his automobile last night when he stopped to assist three men whose car was in a ditch near Mitchell, Ill. The second car was found later to have been stolen a few hours earlier in Granite City.

As Sparks neared the automobile, on the Mitchell-Peag road, the men waved to him. He stopped and got out of his car. They asked him to pull their heavy sedan out of the ditch.

When he replied he would go for aid instead, as he doubted if he could pull their car with his light roadster, one of the men shot him with a revolver. The three forced him to lie down in a field. Then they fled in his car. It was found today abandoned on a lonely Madison County road two miles from Granite City.

Sparks made his way to the farm of Doyle Spicer who took him to the hospital. His condition is not reported as serious.

19c PINTLINDBERGHS TO START
FOR ORIENT NEXT WEEKDay of Departure Not Decided —More Instruments Being Installed in Plane.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh plan to start next week on their vacation flight to the Orient, but "I do not know what day we will be ready," Lindbergh said.Several more instruments are to be installed in the Lockheed Sirius monoplane, which has been converted into a seaplane by the attachment of pontoons.A day or two before the takeoff, the Lindberghs will fly to Washington for a final conference with State Department officials, who are arranging the necessary papers for their flights to foreign lands.Their route will be by way of Ottawa, the Canadian Northwest, Alaska across the Bering Sea into the Kamchatka Peninsula of Siberia and thence through the Kuril Islands and into Japan.The principal over-water leg of the flight will be from Nome to Karasig, which is on an island at the extreme eastern coast of Siberia. The distance is about 1000 miles.Part of the journey from Petropavlovsk will be over water, but on part of this flight to Nemuro the Lindberghs will have an island studded chain beneath them. The route covers nearly 7000 miles.

Collapsible Rubber Boat.

Should some mishap force the Lindberghs down on water, they will swim to the surface to find already floating a bundle containing means of sustenance, transportation and even communication with the outside world.The outer wrapping of the bundle, which automatically is released from a tall compartment when the plane submerges, is a collapsible rubber boat designed for inflation by means of a bottle of compressed air. The inside of the boat carries a mast and sail, emergency rations, and a crash-proof, water-tight radio set.This emergency set will have a range of 500 miles in the daytime and 3000 miles at night. The main set inside the plane has a range of 3000 to 7000 miles.Average Weather for Lindberghs
Over North Pacific.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—
Weather Bureau officials, consulting records of the North Pacific and the Bering Sea, found average conditions in late July and early August. Later the threat of storm, fog and ice forming on wings, increases. The Northern summer, which wanes rapidly after the middle of August, now is at its peak.Charles I. Mitchell, forecaster, pointed out that in August, "one of the quieter months, there are usually two or three disturbances over the ocean each day. Most, however, pass to the south of the Lindberghs'
course."

HUNTING JOBS FOR DISABLED VETERANS

U. S. Employment Service Taking Census to Learn Status of Men.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Returns from the first individual census of the approximately 200,000 disabled war veterans in the United States are piling up in the office of John Arthur Shaw, veterans director of the United States Employment Service.

To every man injured in his country's service a questionnaire has been sent asking the nature of his disability, kind of job he last held, and present employment situation.

Clerks are sorting the returned questionnaires into three piles—those having jobs, those unemployed—which are sent to Gen. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs as a permanent social service problem—and those able to work and needing jobs. In whose behalf an intensive campaign for immediate employment will be conducted.

Shaw said his own estimate was that about 30,000 disabled veterans would be found in need of work.

"Our organization is capable of placing these men in jobs if the employing public will accept partly disabled men," he said. "If the employing public will not hire a man merely because he has lost an eye or a hand, we should know it."

Every Federal, state and municipal employment agency had promised to put the men at the head of the preferred list, the employment director explained.

After classification in Washington, the questionnaires will be sent to the home state of the senders and will be "followed right down to the man's home town, with every possible agency co-operating to get him a job," Shaw said.

FATALLY INJURED IN TRAP SET FOR GASOLINE THIEF

Glenn Dunning Victim of Explosion on Farm Near Canton, Ill.

By the Associated Press.

CANTON, Ill., July 23.—An unemployed drainage worker was fatally injured here yesterday in a trap set by a farmer to catch a gasoline thief.

Glenn Dunning, 29 years old, from Liverpool, died in a hospital from body burns, lacerations, and loss of one arm and of the other hand suffered in the explosion of a blasting power trap on the Ross Snider farm.

Several times in recent weeks, gasoline has been taken from a storage tank in one of Snider's fields. He set a trap, so arranged that the turning of the handle on the tank set off the blasting powder.

Dunning was brought to the hospital by his wife and Mike High, another Liverpool resident. High told Deputy Sheriff Harter of visiting the tank with Dunning and of the explosion. High was not injured.

FEDERAL DRY AGENT SHOT IN KANSAS CITY RAID DIES

Two Other Officers Wounded in Fight in Which Gangster Was Slain.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 23.—Curtis E. Burks, 35 years old, a Federal prohibition agent, who was shot by a gangster during a raid Monday night on an alleged bootleggers' hangout, died in a hospital last night.

Burks, one of 15 men who participated in the raid, was shot when he and two fellow agents attempted to disarm John Calla, a gangster, in a dimly lighted room. Burks' slayer is thought to have escaped after shooting his way down a stairway. Calla was slain a short time later when he grappled with a city detective for possession of a sawed-off shotgun.

E. C. Anderson, another agent, and Clarence Reedy, a detective, are recovering from wounds received in the fight. M. B. Wilson, Negro youth struck by a stray bullet, is in a serious condition.

Burks is survived by his widow and 3-month-old son. The funeral will be held in Adrian, Mo., his former home.

ONLY 23 MINIATURE GOLF COURSE PERMITS ISSUED

Last Year There Were 64—Prices Have Been Reduced.

Miniature golf in St. Louis has lost some of the popularity it had last season when it blossomed out on many vacant lots. So far this season only 23 permits for courses have been issued as compared to 64 for last year.

The courses which are operating, moreover, have cut their prices below the rates charged last season. The standard rate last year was 25 cents a round, with 25 cents the charge for a repeat game. This year 25 cents is the usual initial charge with 20 cents for a repeat game. Some courses, however, have gone as low as 15 and 10 cents a game with repeat games free.

GATELY DIVIDEND OF 5 PCT.

An additional dividend of 5 per cent to general creditors of Gately Chain Stores, Inc., bringing the total to 65 per cent, was authorized by Federal Judge Davis yesterday.

Edward E. Rudolph, receiver, said the dividend could be paid out of $17,559 cash on hand without disturbing operation of the company.

MRS. RICHARD CROKER DENIES BEING INVOLVED IN KILLING

Says She Was Threatened With Suit by Attorney for Killing His Son.

By the Associated Press.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., July 23.—The tangled legal affairs of Mrs. Richard Croker, widow of the late Tammany Hall chieftain, took a new turn today with her denial that she was involved in the death of Guthridge L. Robinson, her personal agent.

The denial was made in her answer to a suit filed by Robinson's father, R. E. Robinson, her former attorney, who is seeking to establish a lien on part of the Croker Palm Beach estate to secure his claim for $125,000 on a fifth interest in the property.

Guthridge Robinson died here June 30. None of the papers in the suit say how Mrs. Croker is alleged to have been involved in his death, which local newspapers at the time described as following "a lingering illness."

Mrs. Croker's answer, however, says that R. E. Robinson asserted Mrs. Rowena D. Robinson, widow of Guthridge Robinson, threatened to sue her for killing him unless she paid Mrs. Robinson $10,000. Mrs. Croker also said that early this month R. E. Robinson demanded that she buy him an automobile.

The Croker property involved in Robinson's suit was to be divided among five attorneys or agents as payment for successful legal services in connection with the extensive litigation against Mrs. Croker. Mrs. Croker sets forth Robinson was not entitled to any pay until all litigation against her is ended, and besides, she says, he was discharged last July 17 for opposition to her interests.

MARRIAGES DECREASE 8.5 PER CENT IN 1930

Divorces Drop 4.2 Pct.; Ratio of 59 Weddings to Each Separation.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 23.—Marriages decreased 8.5 per cent and divorces 4.2 per cent in the United States during 1930.

The Census Bureau, completing compilations three months quicker than in any previous year, yesterday tallied 1,128,180 marriages in 1930 as compared with 1,232,559 in 1929. The 1930 divorces numbered 191,630 as against 201,468 in 1929.

Experts attributed the falling off to the business depression.

Marriages increased 4.2 per cent from 1928 to 1929.

In addition to the usual computations, the Census Bureau included the relative number of marriages to each divorce. For the United States as a whole, 5.9 marriages were reported for each divorce as against 6.1 in 1929.

Nevada had but 2.3 marriages to each divorce, but even then it led all the states in rate of marriages per 1000 population with 67 as against a rate of 5.2 for the United States.

New York and the District of Columbia, each with only one cause for absolute divorce, reported respectively 57.5 and 24.5 marriages to each divorce, thus leading the list.

South Carolina, allowing no divorces, could not be included in the comparison.

On an estimated population of 123,191,000 for July 1, 1930, marriages tallied 9.2 per 1000 population; divorces 1.66.

Texas, with a recent law requiring advance posting of intentions to marry, showed the heaviest falling off—28.5 per cent. Texas marriages in 1929 numbered 63,173; in 1930 they reached 45,158.

Texas' loss proved New Mexico's gain. Marriages increased in New Mexico by 29.5 per cent, 8711 in 1930 as against 6727 in 1929, by far the most marked increase of any of the states.

Only nine states reported marriage increases—Maine, Nebraska, Virginia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona and Nevada. Several of the nine adjoining states in which recent changes in the marriage laws require from three to five days to elapse between application for a marriage license and its issuance.

Divorces decreased most rapidly in the District of Columbia, falling off 19.1 per cent. Highest increase in divorce was in Delaware, 21.3 per cent. Increased rates for divorce were reported for Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Arizona, Utah, Nevada and California.

Ratio of divorces per 1000 population ranged 0.19 in the District of Columbia to 28.67 in Nevada. Census Director William M. Stewart emphasized the 1930 figures were preliminary, and subject to correction.

BLIND BREWMASER A BEGGAR

Commended for Not Pursuing Trade After Law Ended It.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, July 23.—Charles O. Chamness, 57 years old, and blind since birth, was a brewmaster by trade. He married a blind woman and they began to rear a family of five children.

Chamness and his wife were arraigned in a police court yesterday charged with begging on the street. Judge Joseph A. Graber heard the story. Then he said: "Through diligence and application this man learned a trade. Then a law takes it away from him and throws him out of a job. I commend him for his restraint in not pursuing his trade, regardless of the law."

With these remarks the judge dismissed the charges and summoned social workers to work out a way to take care of the former brewmaster's family.

GRASS AND TIMBER FIRE DAMAGE IN WEST

Tourists Help Rangers Fight Blazes in Wyoming and Other States.

By the Associated Press. CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 23.—Tourists and Dude Ranch guests have joined rangers in a fight against Wyoming grass and timber fires which have spread over an area officials estimated at 50,000 acres.

A huge fire near Rocky Point, in Northeastern Wyoming, destroyed several ranch buildings and 200 head of cattle. The loss in wild life was not determined. The Deer Lodge Forest, spread over 2500 acres in dry timber and threatened to trap a party of four ranch guests and two guides whose horses bolted. William Roeder, ranch hand, managed to catch one of the animals and obtained fresh mounts from a ranch on Georgetown Lake. A fire in the Yellowstone National Park burned over an area Roger W. Toll, superintendent, estimated at 25,000 acres.

National Guard troops were ordered out at New Castle last night to fight flames in the Black Hills which threatened many ranches and grain fields. Sam Walker of New Castle, a volunteer fighter, narrowly escaped death when he fell exhausted. He was dragged to safety by fellow workers. Rains aided in an attempt to save the C. M. Dude Ranch near Dubois.

from a fire that has burned approximately 6000 acres. A. G. Nord, supervisor of the Wasatch National Forest in Utah, said many ranchers burned off timber to induce a heavier growth of forage in succeeding years. Most of the fires, however, were attributed to lightning. A neglected campfire was blamed for one, which swept 8000 acres in the Teton National Forest. Scattered fires were reported in Utah and the Black Hills of South Dakota.

Two Missouri Convicts Caught. By the Associated Press. JEFFERSON CITY, July 23.—Two convicts who escaped Tuesday night from a state prison farm in Callaway County, across the river from here, were captured last night near McGirk, about 18 miles west of Jefferson City. They are Earl Anderson and Orville Putner. Officials are making arrangements to return R. E. Miller of Jasper County and Harry Wellman of Ozark County to the prison from Orlando, Fla., if authorities do not prosecute them for an offense there, commanding a state automobile.

UTILITIES OFFICE IN UNIVERSITY CITY HELD UP FOR $350

Two Young Men Escape in Auto After Seizing Funds of Union Electric at 6500 Delmar Bl.

The branch office of the Union Electric Light & Power Co., 6500 Delmar boulevard, University City, was held up today by two young men who fled with $350.

Four men and three women employees were in the office when the robbers entered about 9:30 o'clock. One took his place at the front door, the other going directly to the desk of the cashier, Miss Marge E. Anier. She was counting yesterday's receipts in preparation for depositing them in a bank.

Thinking another employee was playing a joke, Miss Anier pushed the robbers away and said: "Leave me alone, I'm busy," when he demanded the money. Then she saw the revolver shaking nervously in his hand and sat back while he gathered the money.

The robbers ran out a side door to their automobile parked on Westgate avenue and drove east in an alley.

Theater Robbers Got $50, Fired on as They Flee in Auto.
Two employees of the Mattitt Theater, 2812 North Vandeventer avenue, were held up last night by two armed youths who obtained $50 and fled in an automobile, exchanging shots with the manager, Clarence Groetke, 4528 Arco avenue.

Entering the theater lobby, the robbers held up Chester Parrish, 5031 Wells avenue, ticket taker, and dragged Miss Nellie Stapleton, 2915 St. Louis avenue, cashier, from her booth. Groetke learned of the holdup, obtained his pistol and ran into the street, firing one shot as the automobile drew away. A shot fired by one of the robbers struck a parked automobile near where the manager was standing. Police radio was responsible for the capture of another burglar last night. Policemen in several automobiles equipped with receiving sets had surrounded the drug store of Walter Cohan, Pendleton and Easton avenues, within a few minutes after neighbors had reported a burglar there.

A window was found open, and inside a quantity of merchandise was piled on the floor in preparation for removal. In the basement, hiding behind a furnace, police discovered a 17-year-old Negro who said he was Edward Mosley.

Louis Hoesep, manager of a Thompson restaurant at 417 Washington avenue, was held up for $33.

A meeting of Negro police game agents at 2804 Morgan street was interrupted by four armed Negroes who took $30 from Charles Jones, 2806 Morgan.

Henry Brewster, 2160 Farrar avenue, reported he was robbed of his watch by two Negroes who held him up at Grand boulevard and Easton avenue.

A 200-pound safe containing about $130 was stolen last night from the Ephorist Bros. Hardware Co., 6123 Page boulevard.

Slain by Drug Store Robber.
TULSA, Ok., July 23.—Grady R. Turner, 40 years old, salesman for a Fort Smith (Ark.) drug firm, died today in a hospital of a bullet wound. He was shot late last night in a drug store here by one of two Negro holdup men. The pair escaped without loot in an automobile driven by a companion. Persons in the store said the Negroes were excited and shouted conflicting orders. One Negro told Turner to lie down, the witness said, and he was obeying when the other Negro fired at him without warning.

HARDIN, ILL., HIGHWAY BRIDGE IS DEDICATED

Span Gives County First Year-Round Connection With the Outside World.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HARDIN, Ill., July 23.—A new bridge over the Illinois River, built by the State of Illinois at a cost of $660,000 to connect Calhoun County with Greene and Jersey counties, and giving Hardin and Calhoun County their first means of year-round transportation connection with the outside world, was dedicated today with a speech by Gov. Emmerson.

Calhoun County, a peninsula between the Mississippi and Illinois rivers, is the only one of the 102 counties of Illinois without a railroad. The county's apple crop, more than 1,000,000 barrels of fruit a year, has been handled in the past chiefly by steamboats on the two rivers, being shipped from Hardin and Kampsville on the Illinois River and from Hamburg and Moxier on the Mississippi.

Joseph M. Page, Jerseyville newspaper editor, and member of the State Highway Advisory Board, for years advocated a bridge as part of State Highway No. 28, connecting Jerseyville, Hardin and Kampsville. In recognition of his work for this improvement, the last Legislature passed a resolution providing that the bridge should bear his name.

Gov. Emmerson, in his address, spoke of the other bridges constructed by the state as part of its highway system, and said that none of them meant so much to a community as the bridge here, "because no part of our state has been so effectively cut off from the rest as Calhoun County."

The Governor spoke of the "record-breaking time" of 13½ months in which the bridge has been completed, and the fact that it costs the state $100,000 less than the first estimates. The contract called for completion of the work in September, but the time was shortened by six weeks, to assure apple growers the use of the bridge for this season's crop.

The bridge is of all-steel construction, with 22-foot roadway and a vertical lift span over the river channel. Its length is 2367 feet.

'MA' KENNEDY SOBS WHILE

MARRIAGE IS BEING ANNULLED

Other Wife of G. E. Hudson Takes Her in Arms to Comfort

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 23.—An annulment of the marriage of Mrs. Minnie "Ma" Kennedy and G. E. Hudson on the ground Hudson had not been divorced from Mrs. L. Margaret Newton Hudson was ordered today by the Superior Court, acting on a petition filed by Mrs. Kennedy.

The latest development since the wedding to Mrs. Kennedy at Longview, Wash., recently, brought a jam of spectators to the court room. The case was concluded in 15 minutes.

She and Mrs. Newton-Hudson took the witness stand and told of their marriages to Hudson toward the end of her testimony. Mrs. Kennedy sobbed hysterically.

The mother of the Evangelist, Almes Temple McPherson, had to be removed from the court room and as she was assisted through the crowd of spectators, she met Mrs. Newton-Hudson. Without a word but tears still streaming down her cheeks, she fell into the other woman's arms and Mrs. Newton-Hudson attempted to comfort her.

By the Associated Press.

LONGVIEW, Wash., July 23.—A certified copy of a bigamy warrant for Guy Edward Hudson, charged with marrying Mrs. Minnie Kennedy here June 28 while he was still the husband of Mrs. L. Margaret Newton-Hudson, has been sent by air mail to Los Angeles authorities by the Prosecuting Attorney.

ACTION IN TEXAS LEGISLATURE

TO END BRIDGE CONTROVERSY

Senate Bill Would Give Company Right to Sue State for Amount Due on Span.

By the Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Tex., July 23.—Both Houses of the Legislature today passed a bill designed to put an end to the Red River bridge dispute which has resulted in dissension between the Texas and Oklahoma Governors.

The bill, by Senator Jake Loy, would grant to the Red River Bridge Co. or its receiver, J. H. Handy, permission to sue the State for alleged failure of the Texas Highway Commission to fulfill its contract with the company. The contract under the company's interpretation and the interpretation of Federal Court in Houston, required the commission to pay the company between $80,000 and $150,000 for the toll bridge.

The bridge company had obtained from Federal Court at Houston a temporary injunction restraining the Highway Commission from opening the interstate free bridge, which parallels the company's toll bridge from Denison, Tex., to Durant, Ok., until the State's contract obligations had been met. Loy said he had received assurances the company would ask for dissolution of the injunction once it got the right to sue.

BOY WHOSE DOG WAS KILLED,

PRESENTED WITH TWO MORE

Humane Society's Gift Goes to Cousin When Pedigreed Puppy Arrives.

Kenneth Bruce, tearful yesterday over the death of his dog beneath the wheels of an automobile on the Fourteenth street viaduct, found himself, after complications and delays today, with two dogs, a pedigreed police puppy, the gift of Coroner Dever, and one, a part police dog and part intermediate, obtained from the Humane Society by an afternoon newspaper.

Coroner Dever had to wait three hours to present the pup and its resplendent brass-studded harness to 8-year-old Kenneth. The ceremony was set for 10 a. m., but at 9 a reporter called at the Bruce home, 1206 1/2 Grattan street, and took Kenneth to the Humane Society.

When he finally saw the Coroner's pup, Kenneth said, "That's the dog I want." Asked what he would do with the other, he at first said, "I'm goin' to turn him loose," but finally announced, "I guess I'll give him to my cousin who lives next door to me."

5 YEARS IN ROADHOUSE KILLING

Inn Proprietor Convicted of Shooting Sikeston Football Player.

By the Associated Press.

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., July 23.—After deliberating 16 hours a jury in Pemiscot County Circuit Court here yesterday convicted Jack Morgan, Morehouse (Mo.) roadhouse keeper, of manslaughter for the slaying of "Tuffy" Crane, Sikeston youth, who was well known in independent football circles in Southeast Missouri. Morgan's sentence was fixed at five years.

Crane was slain in a roadhouse near Morehouse the night of June 7, 1930. The trial was brought to Pemiscot County from New Madrid County on a change of venue. Testimony showed Morgan shot Crane with a pistol when Crane attacked him in a dispute over the removal of Crane's automobile, which was parked in a driveway beside the roadhouse.

ALPINE CLIMBERS KILLED

Two Tourists, Without Ropes or Guide, Fall 5000 Feet.

By the Associated Press.

VIENNA, July 23.—Two tourists in the South Tyrol, identified as Henry Smith, 22 years old, and Leopold Palla, 20, were killed while climbing Cima Fiammanti in the Sarntal Alps without ropes or a guide. Both fell more than 5000 feet. Palla was killed outright and Smith died on the way to the hospital.

Although the reports described the men as American tourists, the Alpine station at Meran, Italy, said the tourists were not Americans.

for Cooling Comfort

... when your body is weary and your spirit needs reviving—quick!

THIS pure wholesome juice of sun-ripened Concord grapes does far more than serve as a natural refrigerant. It also affords benefits so far-reaching that here surely is one of Nature's most generous gifts to man.

Abounding in mineral salts, neutralizing acids and fruit proteins, so invaluable to vigor, Welch's ends exhaustion with an almost magic quickness . . . replaces burned-up energy without adding a single undesired ounce to one's weight.

Incidentally, what Welch's does for grown-ups it does in even greater measure for children. It builds strong teeth and makes rich blood.

The next time you are just plain fagged, open a new test-size Junior bottle of Welch's and drink a bunch of grapes. You will probably want to add one-third to one-half water, for this delightful beverage is concentrated goodness. That is why it costs less than any other form of fruit.

Whether for between-meal hunger or as a beverage, Welch's is an essential in the modern home. Serve it every day throughout the year, especially for breakfast. Thus you will protect yourself and family with the most convenient form of health insurance.

Be sure to ask for Welch's by name. Only thus can you be sure of pure pasteurized fruit juice bottled under rigid laboratory control.

C. & A. LINE INSPECTED BY B. & O. PRESIDENT

New Owner Lays Road's Troubles to Depression Rather Than Motor Competition.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, left for Baltimore today after an inspection of the Chicago & Alton Railroad, of which the B. & O. has acquired control. He inspected the Kansas City-St. Louis line of the Alton yesterday. W. G. Bierd, president and receiver of the Alton, who is to be a vice president of the enlarged system, accompanied him on the tour of the Alton lines.

Willard said, in an interview here last evening, that the financial difficulties of the railroad are due to the general business depression, rather than to automotive competition. When business in general gets back to normal conditions, he predicted, the railroads also will prosper.

"I can't say how soon that will be," he continued, "but the outlook is encouraging. Crops are fine in Illinois and Missouri, and big crops mean something, even at low prices. Even if Kansas can get only 25 cents a bushel for its wheat, its crop will bring $60,000,000. After looking over this territory, it is difficult to conceive that we are having a depression."

Willard said no decision had been reached as to any consolidation of passenger train schedules between the B. & O., which extends east to Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, and the C. & A., which has its western terminus at Kansas City. Through trains from the East to Kansas City, he said, would not be so beneficial to St. Louis as the present arrangement, which gives the passenger a chance to stop here. He also thought the passengers might prefer to change trains. He is interested in devices for cooling passenger cars, and inspected the workings of such a plan, installed yesterday by the B. & O. for its sleeping cars at Union Station here.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL PLAYER ACCUSED OF MANSLAUGHTER

Rodney Martin Charged With Killing Youth, 24, in Fight at Berlin (Wis.) Dance Hall.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Wis., July 23.—Second degree manslaughter charges were filed yesterday against Rodney Martin, Minneapolis, basketball and football star at Ripon College.

The charges were filed after a Green Lake County Coroner's jury completed an inquest into the death of Allen Wilson, 24 years old, following a fight in a dance hall.

Martin testified that he had only held Wilson down on the ground outside the dance hall until he promised to behave. Witnesses said Wilson was beaten by a man who objected to his dancing with the attacker's partner.

ROBBERY SUSPECT CLEARED

Witnesses Fail to Identify Orville Reeden, Herrin, Ill.

Orville Reeden of Herrin, Ill., arrested on suspicion of participating in a holdup on the Freeburg-Athens road by three men last month, was freed at a preliminary hearing in Belleville yesterday. The victims of the holdup failed to identify him.

A. C. Davis and his son, Harold, who were robbed of $120 previously identified Willard Russell, 38, of St. Louis, as one of the robbers.

FRANCE WILL NOT SEND TEAM TO THE OLYMPIC GAMES IN 1932

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, July 22.—The French Olympic Committee today decided not to send a team to the Los Angeles games in 1932. The decision followed reports that insufficient funds were available to finance the trip of a representative team.

The formal notification of the French decision probably will be translated later, through the Under Secretary of State for Physical Education.

The committee from the French committee placed responsibility for the decision on the committee's failure to vote the necessary credits before adjournment.

Despite the announcement of the French Olympic Committee, American Olympic officials are hopeful France may obtain sufficient backing to send at least a small team to Los Angeles next year.

France was the Olympic host in 1924 and has scored a number of notable triumphs in the games. The Algerian, El Ouafi, won the marathon for France at the 1928 games. In the track sports, France has the world's 800-meter record holder in Sera Martin; also a 1500-meter star in Jules Ladoumègue, second at this distance in 1928.

BROWNS WIN SECOND STRAIGHT FROM WASHINGTON, 6-4

Cards Have Only 23 More Games to Play With Flag Contenders

Tuberculosis Day Game Off; Re-Scheduled for Tuesday

THE Tuberculosis day game scheduled between the Cardinals and the Phillies this afternoon, was called off at noon by the Cardinal business office on account of rain. It was announced that the Tuberculosis day program had been re-scheduled for next Tuesday. The Boston Braves will play the Cardinals that day.

The Cardinal office announced that today's postponed game would be played as a part of a doubleheader tomorrow. It will be Ladies' day, and members of the Knottola Gang will not be admitted free tomorrow. The first game will start at 1:30 p. m.

By J. Roy Stockton.
In the rain a ball club's fancy often turns to thoughts of statistics and that's what happened yesterday as rain was soaking the field at Sportsman's Park, making it necessary to postpone the opening contest with the Phillies and the other events on the Tuberculosis day program.

Time to Fade Out

JACK SHARKEY's failure to do better than draw with Mickey Walker, last night, definitely classifies him as a second-rater. He takes his place with Young Stribling as a boxer who has always failed to answer Opportunity's knock.

Against Risko, against Stribling and against Schmeling, he showed poorly. He boasted what he would do to Walker, his 29 pounds lighter opponent. But with his backers putting up three dollars to win one, he dubbed it again.

And while it appeared, before the fight, that he had everything in his favor as against Walker, his failure seems to make it plain that a fighting heart is worth more than all other assets put together. Sharkey, it now appears, has a complex that is fatal to his future. It is temperament.

"If I could whip a middleweight like Walker," Sharkey boasted before the fight, "I would be a poor excuse as a heavyweight."

You said it, Jack. So it's curtains, please. Just another loud noise surrounded by a swell shape has passed along.

Anybody's Guess as Good

APPARENTLY the decision of the unconvincing character of the fight. Each of them rendered a different decision. The referee was the individual who favored Walker. This, however, may have been due to a keener appreciation of the New York rules, which say that while a foul may not be recognized, low blows are, and that a fighter employing one after warning loses the round.

Sharkey fouled in three different rounds and at least one of these was one of his strongest—the fifth. If the referee credited that round to Walker instead of to Sharkey, it would have changed a "draw" count to a winning one, with eight rounds for Walker, six for Sharkey and one even.

As a matter of fact, stories of the bout seem to indicate a rather futile fight with Sharkey doing the only visible damage. Not much on which to base a title of "Giant Killer" for Walker.

It Will Go Big

NONE the less the most interesting heavyweight fight on the calendar, with the possible exception of one between Carners and the champion, will be when and if Mickey and Schmeling meet. That will put the mob, because it will be a FIGHT.

Here are two gamblers, both forward fighters, willing to give and able to take. It is a pair that will pack the park because it has been a long time now since two men of fighting instinct have battled for the title.

If the fans by vote could name the winner, it would be Mickey.

Little Mickey and Big Jack Mixing It Up

Sharkey (right), using his left—one of the few times during their 15-round bout at Brooklyn. Sharkey broke a bone in his little finger of the left hand early in the contest, he explained after the bout, and was not able to use that hand afterwards. Three officials each gave a different decision, the referee favoring Walker, one judge calling it a draw and the other giving the fight to Sharkey.

Sharkey, 29 Pounds Heavier, Lucky to Draw With Walker

By the Associated Press.
BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 23.—The official decision says Jack Sharkey didn't lose, but on lion-hearted little Mickey Walker fought today showers all the acclaim and golden promises that go to a newcomer scaling the heavyweight heights.

In the very heart of the heavy-weight picture is the rugged, grinning, battle-scarred face of the chunky fellow from Rumson, N. J., welterweight and middleweight titleholder in his time, now at least as good as Sharkey because two learned judges and a referee compromised on a draw after 15 rounds of hurly-burly battle in Ebbets Field 1st night.

Certainly Mickey turned in the most surprising upset of many a fight season as he harassed the big sailor man through the rough and tumble battle that revealed Sharkey in another of his disappointing struggles and gave a crowd of 32,000 a chance to boo and exult in his discomfiture.

Crowd Favored Walker.
There was no questioning whom the crowd that almost filled the National League ball yard thought had won; but the arbiters arrived at the compromise decision by every possible route left open to them.

Referee Arthur Donovan, for instance, thought the build-up, courage, the eternal aggressiveness of the little fellow who gave Sharkey an advantage of 29 pounds, inches in height and reach, entitled Mickey to the decision.

Judge George Kelly voted Sharkey the award apparently on the basis of his right hand punching that sashed Walker's left eye lid in the fifth round and opened it wide in the closing session.

Judge Charles F. Mathison chose the middle course and called it a draw, while the Associated Press score sheet counted up the same way, with seven rounds for Walker, seven for Sharkey and one even.

But regardless of the futility of the decision, as futile as the battling itself, honors for the evening swept into the lap of Walker, the 123-pounder who dared tackle a Sharkey weighing 152, outbuled and outpunched him for 10 rounds, and slipped back only when the embattled sailor rallied fiercely to try and save the day in the last four rounds.

Sharkey found the range, then, with the long right hand punches he had been tossing in desultory fashion all evening; the only clubbing smashes in close that opened wide the gash in Mickey's left eyelid. Blood poured down Walker's cheek, smeared his features into a red, grinning, false face, and gave the erratic Sharkey the incentive to come on as he to the count.

Sharkey plainly showed the effort.

MRS. MOODY IN FINAL ROUND OF TENNIS TOURNAY

By the Associated Press.
MANCHESTER, Mass., July 23.—Mrs. Helen Willis Moody became a finalist in the Essex County Club's invitation tennis tournament for the fourth time since 1925 today, by defeating another California net star, Dorothy Wessel of Sacramento, 6-3, 6-3, in the best-played match of the week.

The former world champion had to battle hard for every point. Even though she did manage to keep her smaller rival on the defensive during most of the play, Mrs. Moody was the only one of Mrs. Moody's five opponents strong enough to win more than four games and she was robbed of another by an inattentive linesman, who missed one of Helen's cuts.

Lon Gehrig refused to let the Babe out after his league leadership, connecting with his thirtieth home run of the season in the eighth inning. The blow gave Gehrig a head of four over Ruth and the Yankees an advantage of 5 to 3 in the game.

DROPS CASE AGAINST ALLENTON BANK BOARD

Prosecutor Frees Depositor's Directors — "Law Virtually Repealed."

Indictments against seven directors of the defunct State Bank of Allenton, a village in the southwestern part of St. Louis County, were dismissed by Associate Prosecuting Attorney Noble at Clayton yesterday.

The indictments, voted in 1929 and charging the defendants with assisting to the receipt of deposits when the bank was insolvent, were dropped because the last Missouri Legislature "virtually repealed" that section of the statutes relating to criminal liability of directors of failed banks, it was said at the prosecutor's office.

Accompanying the State's stipulation of dismissal was a statement signed by two representatives of a stockholders' committee which read: "In consideration of the unlikelihood of the conviction of the defendants in view of the recent enactment of the Legislature, and not desiring to burden the State with unnecessary costs, we respectfully suggest dismissal of the action."

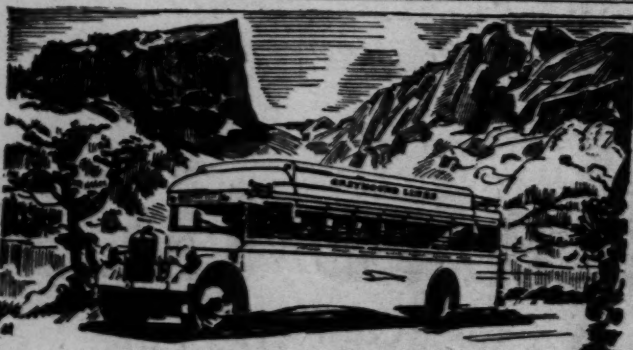

The indicted directors are: John Devine, George J. Jordan, George Gross, Charles Cheerin, George Renneberg, George J. Breaker and Fred W. Retteker.

An indictment charging obtaining money by false pretenses still is pending against Breaker, whose operations wrecked the bank. He fled to South America and never has been apprehended.

In a civil suit last fall, depositors obtained a judgment of $22,500 against the directors. This, however, was settled last Friday by a compromise for $15,000. Depositors received about 50 per cent of the money they had in the bank.

CANADIAN POWER FIRM HEAD EXPLAINS CAMPAIGN GIFTS

Takes All Responsibility, Says He Borrowed Funds From Beuharnois Co. By the Associated Press. OTTAWA, Ont., July 23.—R. O. Sweeney, head of the Beuharnois Power Co., has assumed complete responsibility for contributions to political campaigns which had been connected with the company. Testifying at the final public hearing of the House of Commons Committee investigating the Beuharnois project, he said the funds had been lent him by Beuharnois and he had already repaid considerable part.

Evidence previously given to the committee indicated campaign funds of more than $250,000 had been distributed by Sweeney to the Liberal and Conservative parties, both Federal and Provincial.

Sweeney said the board of directors had given "facit approval" to his campaign fund contributions. The money, he said, was paid by Beuharnois to a company owned entirely by himself and he personally was responsible for their repayment.

A. F. King, committee auditor, testified the cost of the Beuharnois project to date had been $19,763,816 of which he asserted about $7,000,000 represented "water."

A denial that his hotel bills while on a trip to Bermuda were paid by the Beuharnois company was made in the House of Commons by W. L. MacKenzie King, leader of the Liberal opposition.

They were married in Honolulu on May 27, a short time after a divorce decree between McCormick and Colleen Moore, movie star, became final. Goldflam said Mrs. McCormick would leave Los Angeles for Reno within two weeks.

By the Associated Press. SHANGHAI, July 23.—Two bombs and a fusillade of bullets directed at T. V. Soong, Finance Minister and vice chairman of the Nationalist Government, missed their mark here today, but killed Soong's secretary, Tang Yu-loh. Six other Chinese were injured, some of them apparently by Soong's bodyguard, in answering the fire of the unidentified assassins.

The attack was made just after Soong and his party arrived by train from Nanking. The bombs failed to explode but one of them later blew up when a soldier picked it up. The soldier was seriously injured. A Cantonese student was arrested later in connection with the attack.

Yale Graduate Recently Wed. Tang Yu-loh was 22 years old and was married recently. He was a graduate of Yale University.

Soong, a pillar of the much harassed Nationalist Government, was entering an automobile when a group of unidentified assassins dressed as coolies, attacked him. Two bullets struck Tang Yu-loh, who was standing near Soong.

The shots threw the crowd at the station into an uproar. The density of the throng prevented police from firing at the assassins. Officers fired several volleys into the air. The assassins escaped in the confusion.

Another passenger on the train was Mamoru Shiramitsu, Charge d'Affaires of the Japanese legation at Nanking, whose presence at the station caused reports that he was one of the intended victims. He was in no way involved.

Soong's entourage declined to speculate upon the probable identity of the assassins. In official circles it is thought the attack was instigated by sympathizers of the insurgent Canton government.

The Finance Minister's life was threatened once before as the result of political enmity. Since then he always has carried a pistol.

Soong is 37 years old, a graduate of Harvard University and one of the leading financiers of China.

Soong's Story of Attempt. Seated at a desk on which was one of the bombs thrown at him, Soong later told the story of the attempted assassination.

"I was coming out of the station and was about 15 feet from the exit," he said, "when firing broke out simultaneously on both sides of me. Realizing I was the target, I threw away my white sun helmet, which was conspicuous in the gloomy station, ran into the crowd and dodged behind a pillar."

"Soon the station was filled with smoke from the revolvers of the attackers, and there was confusion firing from all sides, to which my guards replied."

"It was fully five minutes before the station was cleared. At least four assassins were seen by my guards to be firing, but there may have been more. When the smoke cleared my secretary, who had been walking by my side, was found shot in the stomach, hip and arm. Bullets had entered his body from both sides. His hat and document case were riddled, and it was a miracle that I was unscathed, as I towered above him."

Soong said he was pleased to find his chauffeur sitting impassively at the wheel of his automobile, although several shots had been fired at him and two bullets were lodged in the car.

Mistaken Report of Soong's Death. By the Associated Press. TSINGTAO, China, July 23.—Mrs. C. J. Soong, mother of Finance Minister T. V. Soong, died here today shortly after receipt of an erroneous report that her son had been killed in the attack made on him in Shanghai.

Mrs. Soong had been seriously ill and the shock hastened her death.

"My plan for a moratorium on mortgages," Howard said, "is so simple that even a French diplomat could not find any German ghosts inside it."

I know that my retirement will make no difference in the cardinal principles that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by legislative, executive, or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Why Europe Forfeits Our Sympathy.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: I read a letter to the Post-Dispatch, L. R. Johnson tells us that we must cancel the war debts because we were partners of the Allies and should assume common responsibility for the war's issue.

Similar statements have been made before, but they will not stand up under analysis. The war was not our war. We were in no way responsible for it. This country was an innocent bystander drawn into the struggle by force of circumstances. We were made to believe that Germany was the bad man of Europe, solely responsible for the conflict. We have learned since that the Allies were equally to blame. We were told that we were fighting to make the world safe for democracy, that it was a war to end war, that with the defeat of Germany, militarism would be crushed for all time, and we cheerfully sacrificed our youth and gave our wealth to bring about that end.

Today Europe is an armed camp. There are more men running around with rifles in their hands than ever before. Militarism, instead of being crushed, has strengthened its hold. Statesmen talk peace and prepare for war. Vast sums are spent on armaments. Even Germany, financially on the rocks, somewhere, somehow, has found money with which to build a vast pocket cruiser.

Poland snarls across the boundaries at both Russia and Germany. France and Italy are continually growing at each other. Suspicion, hatred, fear hover like dark clouds over the entire continent. Efforts of all our post-war Presidents to bring about a reduction of armaments have brought no real results. Why, then, should we cancel the war debts—in order that the debtor nations may use the money to put more men under arms, build larger navies, more bombing planes?

Perhaps it is none of our business what Europe does, but as long as she continues on her present course she can expect little sympathy from us. Let Europe show a sincere desire for peace, and then, and not until then, will the American people favor cancellation of the war debts.

I. H.

Pre-Civil War Stuff.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THE letter, "Crucity to the South," written by my good Southern neighbor, W. S. Holmes of Baton Rouge, La., evidently dates back farther than the beginning of the Civil War. His arguments covering the rights of slavery are perfectly fitting of the Southern medieval lords who were so lacking in the principles of humanity that they bore the primitive idea that one man had a right to own and enslave another.

Upon this contention of the Southern people was founded the inevitable disaster. Those inhabiting the Northern States believed in the preamble and in the Declaration of Independence for the collective good of all men. They believed that all men should be free, while those in the Southern States believed in slavery and lordship.

"The Curse of Plenty."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I READ an article in the Saturday Evening Post that would make the stones in the street cry out. I refer to the article by Garret Garrett, entitled "The Curse of Plenty." It is a masterly and lucid treatise on the curse of the country is in as to the disposal of 275,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat. As one of the means of disposal, it was thought it might be dumped into the sea. Mr. Garrett did not say that he thought so, but someone had spoken of it. Now may God forgive a country that could even consider so monstrous a thing, with thousands of hungry people clamoring at our door.

What was the meaning of the cry of the destitute last winter? "Sell what thou hast and give to the poor." If we obeyed the old Bible, we would not be in this embarrassed position. In the old law, it was demanded that all labor and all agriculture should rest in the seventh year. That was done to keep from impoverishing the soil and to get rid of all surplus. If we followed that rule, we would have no trouble. But, no, we are all so avaricious.

E. SEAL.

The Price of Prosperity.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

A CLEAR illustration of what is happening economically in this country occurred last week in Europe. A half million dollars' worth of fruit was shipped to Germany from New Zealand and California. The Germans had to refuse it because of inability to pay for it. The shippers then brought a market in England. This brought alarm to the English fruit trade, whose calculations of price reward were based on a normal supply.

Millions of men, women and children in America today are not consuming the products of the soil that they would consume if they had jobs and a normal income. Thus the farmer's market is normally restricted, and we have a vicious circle of jobless workers and moneyless farmers. Again it is shown that the price of prosperity is money in the hands of the masses of consumers.

A SIMPLE TEST.

Addressing the Kiwanis Club at Mexico, Mo., Secretary of State Charles U. Becker says his campaign for the Republican nomination for Governor will largely determine whether parties or newspapers are to rule the State.

That is a simple test, and it ought not to take a year for the people of Missouri to prepare themselves for it. By newspapers, of course, he means that part of the State press which disapproves of the Becker-Brunk-Sharlet-Thompson outfit and its brand of government. Parties are essential to free government, but they are not bigger than government itself. It has been our attempt to make them bigger than government that has given us partisanship and the direful consequences of partisanship. We have had it in the nation, where it reached its climax a few days ago when the first Cabinet officer in the history of the United States went to a penitentiary. The undoing of Albert B. Fall was due to the prostitution of a political party. Mr. Hoover said in dedicating the Harding memorial at Marion that Mr. Harding was betrayed by his friends. In a much truer sense, Mr. Harding's party was betrayed by rogues and renegades. Those rogues and renegades gave us the oil scandal, and as a result of the oil scandal we have at last seen the gates of prison close upon one who sat in the White House councils as a minister of state.

We have had the same eclipse of government by party in the State of Missouri. The Republican State convention of a year ago endorsed the records of Secretary of State Becker and Attorney-General Sharlet, albeit both had been discredited by disclosures in the Young scandal. This did not mean that the Republicans of Missouri endorsed the acts of Becker and Sharlet. They did not think that Becker, who had maneuvered the blue sky department under his aegis, should have accepted a contribution of $500 in his campaign for the office of Secretary of State from one of the Young brothers, who were practitioners before this department. Nor did it mean that the Republicans of Missouri thought Sharlet, the chief prosecutor of the State, should have accepted a gratuitous retainer of $3000 from the Young brothers while holding that important public position. What it did mean was that partisanship controlled the party and could therefore ram down its throat such a nauseous mess as this.

We have this sinister phenomenon in the City of St. Louis. The Post-Dispatch has repeatedly called attention to it. It is not because we bear the Republican City Central Committee any ill will as such. We would as readily damn a Democratic committee for doing what it does, as we have charged the Democratic majority in the State Senate with partisanship in letting the Constitution of the State go hang rather than pass a fair redistricting bill. The Republican City Central Committee makes a practice of yellow dog politics. That is, it habitually supports anyone who can capture a nomination in the primaries. It did this with Sidener, who was repudiated in the election by more than 23,000 votes. It did it with Rosecan, though Rosecan had plainly disqualified himself for public office. It has repeatedly supported bad men for judicial positions. There is none so unfit that it will not work for him if he but bear the party label. Good government is above partisanship. It must be. The party is but a means to that end. To put party above all else is, as Senator Borah says, to betray the country.

Mr. Becker is no coward. He believes the party should be paramount, and he has the candor to say so. We do not believe it, and we accept him as one of the fruits of his philosophy. He is an exponent of bad government. If the people of Missouri want that kind of government, it is their privilege. We do not think they do.

NEWS REEL.

Lon Hocker resigns as head of St. Louis Police Board due to pressure of personal business, and ex-Mayor Kiel, who holds 14 official, civic and business positions, succeeds him; Kansas City forbids card playing in Swope Park, and Ripon, Cal., holds community card party, with tables for 4000 players set in streets; returned African traveler says cannibals are "very polite and considerate," and cannibals eat Belgian commissioner at Leopoldville, Africa; George Bernard Shaw, arriving in Moscow, tells reporters to be "definitely and categorically damned," and reporters rescue Shaw when elevator jams five feet below ground floor; stocks and bonds of $95,860 face value, held by Young Bros.' subsidiary, are sold at auction for $25, and U. S. 1918 air mail stamp with inverted center, face value 24 cents, is sold for $3300; man, 104, caught in Chicago speakeasy raid, is sent to jail, and Annapolis (Md.) woman has son, 4, put in jail over night to discipline him; trying to shoot Niagara rapids in barrel, man is rescued after three hours of peril, and cat, thrown over 125-foot Michipicoten Falls, Ontario, in weighted bag, returns home before owner.

A MIRROR OF ENGLAND'S ILLS.

England's troubles are reflected to some extent in the census figures. During the decade 1921-31 the increase in population of England and Wales was only 5.44 per cent, the smallest increase, with the exception of the war decade, since 1861. These 10 years have been among the darkest in England's history, and the struggle for existence has been so keen that it is not surprising to find a steady descent in the birth rate. It stands now at 16.3 per 1000 of population, less than half of the rate prior to 1890 and two-thirds of the rate in the years before the war. Yet the rate of marriage has not fallen in proportion.

Because of the number of men killed in the war, many thousands of British women have been doomed to single lives, a situation with far-reaching social and moral implications. There was an excess of 1,736,000 females over males in 1921, and in the 10 years this excess has been reduced to 1,670,000, representing a ratio of 1087 females to 1000 males. Perhaps several decades must elapse before England regains the equality between sexes, but by then the years will have taken their toll of neuroticism and unhappiness.

England and Wales together have a total population of 39,900,000, but a large proportion is bulked in the cities. Greater London contains 8,200,000, or more than one-fifth of the total. There may be glimpsed one of England's most serious ills, namely, the desertion of the soil for urban life. Just now it is particularly tragic, for perhaps 2,500,000 of the urban dwellers have no jobs and no prospect of getting jobs, and are thus living from hand to mouth on the dole. Meantime, England must import agricultural products from abroad to sustain the life of its population. "Back to the land" is a cry which England, more than any other nation, needs to heed.

THE COST OF NATURAL GAS.

Having been challenged by the Illinois Commerce Commission to justify the coming of natural gas into that State by lower rates to consumers, the managers of the pipe line enterprise have come to the defense of the 40-cent city gate price.

At a hearing in Springfield, these managers presented a mass of figures to show that it would cost them 35.1-3 cents a thousand cubic feet to deliver natural gas at the city limits of Springfield. Then the pipe line owners demanded a return of 8 per cent, giving them a profit of "a little less than 5 cents a thousand."

Thus the 40-cent city gate price is arrived at. It is the same city gate price that prevails in Kansas City and in many cities of Kansas, hundreds of miles nearer the sources of the gas. Cities in Missouri touched by the same pipe line that is going into Springfield and other Illinois cities are asked to pay 40 cents a thousand cubic feet at the city gate.

For local distribution the city gate price of natural gas compares with the production cost of manufactured gas. In both cases distribution and service costs and the profit of the retailing company have to be added. Thus in Kansas City the 40-cent wholesale price at the city gate results in a 90-cent charge to the domestic consumer. St. Louis pays 95 cents for a manufactured gas of only a little more than half the heat value of the Kansas City natural gas.

It is not at all reasonable that the cost of delivering gas is the same throughout the length of the pipe line stretching nearly 1000 miles from the Texas fields to the cities of Illinois. City officials of Peoria and Springfield dispute the figures of the pipe line operators. The Commerce Commission, which has been called upon to approve contracts for the purchase of gas by utilities serving Illinois cities and towns, very properly states that there is no object in turning from manufactured gas to natural gas unless the price will be lower, and has instituted a searching inquiry into costs. The Missouri Public Service Commission might very properly take similar action in the interests of the progressive cities and towns of Central Missouri that would like to have natural gas, but refuse to shoulder the burdens of franchise contracts.

Meanwhile, the people are not helpless. They know the advantages of natural gas and would like to have it; but in both Missouri and Illinois they are near to other cheap fuel supplies, coal and oil, and they should use these rather than be held up by greedy pipe line promoters. Marked progress toward the mechanical perfection of oil burners is reported, giving the citizens a means of house heating that rivals gas for cleanliness and convenience. Competition has been found to be an effective regulator of rates when state control has failed. It is a field in which the Missouri commission, like that of Illinois, can very usefully intercede in behalf of the people. They have a right to know what any such service costs and what is a fair profit to those giving it.

THE ONE AND ONLY.

When it comes to internecine strife, the warring Chinese have no closer rival than the several factions of Illinois coal miners. So complicated have their troubles become that not even Solomon, who handled history's first paternity case, would attempt to declare the right and wrong. Time was when John L. Lewis was generally recognized as the national leader. Once Alexander Howat's name found favor with many. More lately the advances of John H. Walker have enjoyed a hearing. Now, fresh from a 10-day organization convention in Belleville comes the "Rank and File Miners, District 12, U. M. W. of A.," opposed to Lewis, Howat and Walker and sworn not to recognize the present officials of the international organization. The long-standing controversy recalls the story of division in a once peaceful house of worship known as the Church of God. Differences arose among the brethren, and part of the flock established itself one door to the right under the name of the Only Church of God. In time the dissenters followed the example of the parent body and there arose on the left the Only True Church of God. At the present the Illinois miners have reached the One and Only stage.

WHAT OF NEXT WINTER?

A warning of utmost seriousness and importance to American cities is sounded in a preliminary survey of next winter's relief needs, just presented to the President's Emergency Committee on Unemployment. On the basis of facts from about half of the country's 376 cities of 25,000 population or more, it is concluded (1) that relief demands will be about double those of last winter, and (2) that since private charity cannot possibly provide the necessary funds, municipal and county appropriations will be imperative. The most question of Federal aid is not considered by the investigator, A. T. Burns, in his recommendations.

With at least 6,000,000 unemployed and an equal number of workers on part-time, social conditions grow more rapidly than business conditions. The savings that shielded many a family from destitution are now becoming exhausted. The predicted spring upturn failed to materialize, and employment figures for May and June showed decreases in both worker and payroll totals. William Green, American Federation of Labor president, recently estimated that our workers had lost $2,500,000,000 from wage cuts, reduced time and unemployment in the first five months of 1931. To avert the destitution and tragedy that this economic catastrophe will mean through the winter is a challenge to our country. Even a business recovery this fall would not remedy the situation, for weeks, perhaps months, would be required to absorb the jobless workers and to restore their families to stability.

The report to the President's committee is similar in tenor to that made to Mayor Miller a few days ago by Birch Mahaffey, retiring chairman of the Citizens' Committee on Relief and Employment. The $1,477,109 available for relief in St. Louis for 1931, including $450,000 in municipal appropriations, has proved insufficient, he said. To carry out the year's relief program, $350,000 beyond present funds will be required for the winter months of 1932. Even in the last few months of open weather, demands on relief organizations here were unprecedented, and winter will bring a vast increase in needs. The warning from Washington applies with particular force to St. Louis. It is not too early but rather high time for our city's leaders, elected and civic, to face the problem—what shall we do about next winter?

"AH! THE BOYS WHO UPSET THE APPLE-CART!"

Must Man Surrender to the Machine?

Mechanical progress, while freeing man from much drudgery, also has changed social structure; standardization crushes individual and mergers displace smaller units of our life; trend has influenced nation's psychology in dealing with present crisis; America should drop substitutes for intelligence and draft its best leaders.

From an Address by Dr. Lotus D. Coffman, President, University of Minnesota, at the University of Michigan.

CHANGES have come, with the development of mechanical power, which emancipated man from much of his ancient drudgery. Men differ enormously in their views as to what this means to mankind. Certain it is that machines have increased man's productive power on the one hand and apparently multiplied his wants on the other. The luxuries and super-luxuries yesterday are ordinary commodities of today. New occupations and new trades have been created. The more we produce the more the advertiser insists we need. Not thrift but greater spending, not saving but more gambling, are ideas that have displaced those of our boyhood days.

The coming of the machine has been accompanied by a disappearance of craftsmanship. Strange things are happening in America. Oriental rugs are manufactured in Philadelphia; antique furniture will be made for you while you wait; the linens, laces, luncheon cloths and the like, formerly produced in Russian and Belgian households with artistic accuracy and beauty, are now being produced in manufacturing plants. Hand production is so slow that we are unwilling to wait for it. We want everything and we want it now. Now we have mass production, which crystallizes things in single designs and puts a brake on experiment and personal initiative. It speeds up the processes of production, but slows down the creative effort of the common man.

The spirit of the machine, with its tendency toward mass output and standardization, has invaded every field. Mergers and vast organizations of capital and enterprise abound everywhere. Even the professions have not escaped. The doctors have organized for diagnosis and treatment—the old-fashioned family physician, with his deep understanding of human nature and his comforting smile, has almost disappeared; the independent editor is being absorbed by the syndicate paper; lawyers have organized themselves to fit in with the new scheme of life; even professors have become members of protective associations. The rural merchant is disappearing, and the farmer he serves is being drawn into a vast social organization.

As Mr. Board and others in "Whither Mankind" declare, the most striking characteristic of modern times is the omnipotence of the collective man as contrasted with the feebleness of the individual man. And yet the forces that have shaped history in the past have had to do with the worth of the individual, with his knowledge, his aspirations, his dreams, his hopes, with his own life, to shape his own thought, to express his own opinions, to be the center of his own personal world. More recently the tide of human interests has been away from the creative things of art, poetry, prophecy and religion, in the direction of great organizations of capital and industry.

It was the late Dr. E. E. Slosson, director of Science Service, who declared that, in our civilization, the mechanical forces have got ahead of the moral and intellectual forces. He said that modern man is like the Ara-

WASHINGTON, July 23.

The official circle, and for this reason among others, the newly elected Senator William J. Bulow of South Dakota should get a warm reception this winter. His friends actually ascribe most of his political success to his sense of humor. "I don't think it clear that Mr. Bulow is no mere punster or playboy. His wit, they explain, is of a shrewd, homely variety, and its virtue does not lie so much in the smart lines he uses as in the manner in which he utters them."

In this quality he is supposed to resemble America's famous comedian, Will Rogers, whom he eclipsed at a dinner given in the latter's honor. The two humorists are close friends. At a meeting in Sioux City, the professional comedian called the then Governor of South Dakota up to the platform to say a few words. Bulow said: "I don't mind talking, but I paid $13 to get in, and it wasn't to hear myself." Rogers said he had the $13 next day, he became so attached to Bulow that he helped him during the last campaign both by speeches and by references in his daily column.

THE Senator is extremely popular in his State. He is the first Democrat to have occupied the gubernatorial chair and the second to have become a Federal Senator from South Dakota. Running against William McMaster, an excellent Senator himself, on the plea that "Mac has a job, and I want it," he carried the usually Republican State by a substantial majority.

The campaign, to outsiders, was surprising. Nothing but State issues prevailed, and since McMaster also had served a term as Governor, the electorate was called upon to compare the gubernatorial records of the two candidates as a basis for choosing one to represent the State in Washington. It was a fortunate situation so far as Bulow was concerned. His opponent's surrogacy had alienated numerous stalwart Republicans, and their votes went to Bulow, who, because of the exclusion of national issues, did not find it necessary to compromise his usually Jeffersonian affiliations.

BULOW has some rather appealing idiosyncrasies. No amount of persuasion can induce him to prepare a speech in advance, and whether his remarks get in the newspapers or not depends entirely on the presence or absence of reporters who he speaks. He scorns organizations of any sort and is one of the very few statesmen who does not boast a badge or some other mark of the "inner." His favorite, almost his exclusive, form of headgear is a cowboy hat, a fashion that Coolidge set in motion in South Dakota some years ago, and which Bulow has sustained. Numerous more effete hats have been given him, but the Senator clings to his sombrero.

His expression, as a rule, is more serious than otherwise, a fact that makes his jokes more unexpected and therefore more effective. He is rather tall and seems younger than his 49 years. His hair is still black except for some gray around the temples.

The Flesh and the Spirit

THE FLAME ON ETHERDOVA.
By Hector Bohro. (D. Appleton & Co., New York City, $2.00.)

IT SEEMS that if all really vital human stories are traced to their source it will be found that they stem from a single plot pattern—that of an internal conflict in human personality (whether or not projected upon the outer world as upon a screen)—a conflict, inevitable by virtue of the very fact of our humanness, between the alluring immediacies of the senses world and its apparent rewards or penalties, and the superpersonal world of immaterial values (with its heart-breaking postponements) that men rise above the brute. In the terminology of dogmatic religion this conflict has been represented as existing between the Flesh and the Spirit, the Powers of the Darkness and of the Light, the Devil and Delly.

All humanness is apparently the product of this conflict between what so many modern thinkers regard as the "real" and the "ideal," the alleged "facts" of the objective world and the mere "dreams" of a selfish subjectivity.

Clearly no such conflict ever troubles a cow, and if it is ever to be suspected in any of the "lower animals," a fine collie dog for instance, it is by virtue of some desire of humanization. Also it is to be noted that men may sink to depths no brute has ever reached, just as they may rise to heights that seem not of this world. In spite of what our Honshaw birds and excessively "scientific" persons generally may be persuaded to believe and teach, any complete surrender to the apparently compelling demands of the world conceived exclusively in sense terms, has always been fatal whenever it has become the rule in any society.

This fundamental struggle-plot from which all vital human stories seem to grow, involves a truth that takes the form of an apparently fantastic contradiction, that distinctly human values—all them spiritual if you do not fear a much mislabeled word—must triumph through what in the "practical" world the "shrewd" ones call defeat.

This thesis is so generally associated with one-day-a-week religiosity that almost no one believes in it, and yet it is written large in history. It might be well if this very fruitful thesis could be approached, not from the angle of conventional but rather a deeper, more humane, with the w personal human exper matter close that among pity, love is sympathy, self-abnegat cidentally, tion of whi which const not exclusi ical. They p recator in every re than the s port.

WASHINGTON BLVD. PAVING ESTIMATE REDUCED $3000

All bids on Higher Basis Rejected for Stretch Between Jefferson and Grand Boulevard Cutoff. The preliminary estimate of $67,300 for paving Washington boulevard with asphalt from Jefferson avenue to the cutoff just east of Grand boulevard, was cut $3000 yesterday by the city's engineers. The Board of Public Service will ask for new bids on the basis of that figure.

The board has decided to reject all previous bids on the paving for the reason that they did not come within five per cent. of the engineer's estimate. The lowest was $71,104, or 5.6 per cent more than the engineers had figured. Holding to its rule, the board will demand that new bids must come within five per cent of the new estimate of $64,300.

The $3000 cut was decided on in regard to the elimination of the allowance for disposing of the wood blocks with which the street is paved. The engineers originally allowed for the expense of hauling the blocks to a dump, but decided that the contractor would have no trouble in disposing of the blocks on the street as free firewood to residents of the neighborhood.

The new asphalt surface will be laid on the old foundation.

During 1931, five principal contractors have been bidding on city asphalt contracts. The record of awards indicates these firms have been dividing the contracts almost equally.

BANK OF UNITED STATES OFFICERS GRANTED BAIL

Released From Tombs Prison Under Certificate of Reasonable Doubt. By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, July 23.—Bernard K. Marcus and Saul and Herbert Singer, officials of the closed bank of United States convicted of misusing bank funds, were released from Tombs prison under heavy bail yesterday after obtaining a certificate of reasonable doubt.

Supreme Court Justice George V. Mullan granted the certificate and fixed bail for Marcus and the elder Singer, president and vice president respectively of the closed bank, at $100,000 each. Bond for Herbert Singer was fixed at $50,000.

Waiting taxicabs whisked the three men to their homes immediately after their release from jail. The certificate was the first step in their plan to appeal to a higher court. Marcus and the Singers were convicted a month ago after a three weeks' trial. Charles H. Tuttle, their attorney, yesterday objected to the amounts of the bonds protesting that his clients were "practically broke."

WOMAN BUYS 'LIBERTY' PLANE FOR PROPOSED FLIGHT TO ROME

Mrs. Umberto Loffredo Acquires Ship Which Crossed Atlantic to Copenhagen. By the Associated Press. LIBERTY, N. Y., July 23.—The airplane Liberty, which carried Otto Hillig and Helmer Anders across the Atlantic to Copenhagen last month, was purchased yesterday by Mrs. Umberto Loffredo, who plans a flight to Rome in the ship. She hopes to be the first woman to pilot a plane across the ocean.

She paid Liberty's flying photographer, just returned from Europe, $23,000 for the plane, $1000 more than he paid to have it especially built for his trip.

Mrs. Loffredo told him she planned to take off from Buffalo in mid-August, with a stop in Newfoundland. Rento Rento, who has crossed the South Atlantic by air, will be her navigator.

In 1913 Mrs. Loffredo was making parachute leaps in this country and Italy. In 1927 she got her pilot's license, after training at the Rochester Flying School, the first woman in Buffalo and the eleventh in the United States to acquire such a permit. Last year she piloted a trimotored plane on excursion trips over Niagara Falls.

The proposed flight is being backed by prominent Italian-Americans.

BICYCLE ASSOCIATIONS HAVE 190,000 MEMBERS IN FRANCE

800 Races on Special Tracks During the Last Year. Special to the Post-Dispatch. PARIS.—The bicycle is not a back number in France. Cycling is France's national sport. A bicycle is to any Frenchman as dear as a baseball to any American.

The Cyclists' Association of France is made up of 200 affiliated societies, with 190,000 members. In the past year 20,200 road races and 800 races on special tracks were held under the association's rules and regulations. This society was founded in 1881.

On holidays and week-ends (and there are a great many of them for Frenchmen) the streets and country roads are filled with bicycles. Cycle touring is a favorite phase of this beloved sport. Groups of young boys and girls organize a tour of a certain section of France and make their journey on "bikes." They camp out and cover a large range of territory at very little cost.

Instead of discouraging such traffic on country roads, the French promote it in every way and afford cyclists every protection.

Affirms Death Sentence. OKLAHOMA CITY, July 23.—The Criminal Court of Appeals has affirmed the death sentence of Henry Lovett, convicted of slaying Dee Folliart, El Reno high school football coach, when Folliart attempted to frustrate robbery of the First National Bank of El Reno, Nov. 24, 1930. Date of execution was set for Sept. 25.

about the Government's ability to suppress such uprisings as the syndicalist strike outbreaks in Seville.

"This anarchist affair is weak," he said. "I will feel them like an orange."

Socialist Deputy Theodor Minnender, of Asturias, declared the situation was most grave. "I should not be surprised to see a Republican military dictatorship emerge," he said. "I believe the Socialist Minister, Largo Caballero, at whom the syndicalists are aiming, should resign."

The Government movement against syndicalists continued, and hundreds were arrested. The proclamation declaring martial law in Seville set forth that troops would fire on the slightest warning and that therefore residents had best keep off the streets and out of balconies. Resistance to the military will result in immediate court martial. The troops were ordered to use heavy artillery to destroy houses from which sniping has been going on.

There's No Fun in Being a Hermit

You generally start on a vacation with the desire to leave the world behind. You want to think of nothing but golf and fishing and loafing.

But it isn't long before you begin to wonder what's happening at home... how the Cards and Browns are coming out... what the market is doing... you'd like to laugh at the Bungalows and Skippy. And you wonder why you didn't arrange to have your favorite newspaper follow you on your vacation.

You can keep informed and entertained during the Summer by having the Post-Dispatch mailed to you every day. Before you leave, telephone MAin 1111, or send in a card, giving your Summer address and the period for which you wish to receive the Post-Dispatch. The price is 95 cents a month, including postage.

SERVICE CAR DRIVERS TO APPEAL FROM OUSTER

East St. Louis and Belleville Operators May Decide to Give "Free" Service.
The 133 Red, White and Blue service car drivers will appeal from yesterday's decision of the Illinois Commerce Commission ordering them to cease operation in East St. Louis and Belleville, their attorneys, John C. Roberts, announced yesterday.

Roberts said they had 20 days to petition for a review of the case, and, in doubt as to whether the commission intended them to cease operations in the interim, would continue. Yesterday's order included instructions that the record be handed to the State Attorney-General with a request that he take whatever action seemed expedient to enforce the decision. If forced out, some of the drivers said, they would attempt to circumvent the order by giving "free" rides with a box in their automobiles for "contributions."

The commission acted on complaint of the East St. Louis Railway Co., East St. & Suburban Railway Co. and Blue Goose Motor Coach Co., which contended that competition of service cars, constituting in effect a public utility acting without certificate from the commission, cost them $500 in daily revenues and might force abandonment of street railway service.

AUTO UPSET ON FREE BRIDGE
Runs Up Sloping Steel Support for Column and Turns Over.

An automobile driven by George Thiem, a musician, of 5242 Palm street, skidded early today as it approached the center span of the Free Bridge from East St. Louis, ran up a sloping structural steel support for a bridge column and turned over, the machine resting on its top. Thiem was extricated by passing motorists and taken to City Hospital. He suffered only minor lacerations.

An automobile occupied by two men who said they were Nicholas Tracy, 7004 Southwest avenue and James J. Fee, 2450 Sidney street, ran into an automatic traffic signal at Grand boulevard and St. Louis avenue last night. The men were taken to City Hospital where doctors said both had been drinking. Tracy's nose was broken. Police said neither of the men would say who had been driving the automobile or who owned it.

Fights Off Rescuers, Kills Self.
By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., July 23.—After an ambulance crew balked his effort to commit suicide by carbon monoxide poisoning here early today, Frank Kerhart, 52 years old, fought off his would-be rescuers and shot himself to death. Neighbors said he formerly was a wealthy contractor in Chicago.

AUTO KILLING ACCIDENTAL

Coroner's Verdict in Death of Alfred J. Jakle.
A Coroner's verdict of accident was returned at the inquest today into the death of Alfred J. Jakle, 47 years old, 3226 Pulaski street, who was fatally injured Tuesday night by an automobile at Kings-highway and Manchester avenue.

The driver, Zephyr Barton, 3130 Shenandoah avenue, told police Jakle walked into the side of the machine. Jakle was a clerk for the Frisco Railroad. His address was given incorrectly yesterday as 4342 McRee avenue.

KILLED WHEN DERRICK FALLS

NEW YORK, July 23.—Harold Dougherty, a workman, was killed yesterday when a derrick collapsed on a five-story building under construction and sent the frame work tumbling to the third floor and street below.

Nine men were injured, including O. K. Tabor, a traffic superintendent for the New York Telephone Co., for which the building was under construction. The snapping of cables as the derrick broke and steel commenced to fall warned several workmen unloading a truck and they leaped to safety in an excavation under the sidewalk.

RAINS OF GREAT VALUE TO CORN IN MISSOURI

Pastures, Cotton and Truck Also Benefited by Moisture, Weather Bureau Reports.

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBIA, Mo., July 23.—Rains during the early part of the week brought belated relief to suffering crops and ended a long, hot dry and serious spell of crop deterioration, the weekly weather and crop bulletin of the United States Weather Bureau here said yesterday.

The rains will prove of great value to corn and they also favored pastures, gardens and truck crops, which are near failure. The south-east cotton crop received needed rain.

"Corn in the northwestern and southwestern counties and on heavier bottom lands has held its own very well," the report continued. "The larger part of the State crop is in tassel, and tasseling rather slow, and is coming into silk. Great quantities of water are necessary for this critical stage in its growth. Most upland corn has been injured by damaging weather but with further rains may recover."

"The Ozark tomato crop was on stand before the rain but has failed to set. The bean crop for Barry County canneries is a failure."

Rainfall averaged .44 of an inch in the State, Cass and Nodaway Counties receiving unimportant amounts. Wright County received less than it needs but Jasper and Putnam Counties, with more than 6 inches, and Phelps, with more than 2 inches, were the wettest. The State total for the season is 81 per cent of normal.

With 17 of 26 reporting stations recording maximum temperatures of 100 degrees or more, Warsaw and Chillicothe had the highest with 104 degrees. The minimum of 56 was recorded at Kidder. Unionville reported 6.20 inches rain for the maximum fall while Maryville had but .06 of an inch.

ALL over the country you will find housewives using refined cane sugar for making their jellies, jams, and preserves. It is an acknowledged standard.

If you take advantage of the low price of sugar, also the constantly appearing bargains in fresh fruit, you can put up preserves of all kinds for your winter meals, made just the way you like them.

Canned fruit and preserves—home-made or purchased—as well as sweet relishes belong in the diet. They make meals tasty, enjoyable and economical. Jellies are fine accompaniments for meats as well as a spread for bread, and canned fruits make delicious, wholesome desserts and salads.

Plenty of Ice for Those Using Ice Refrigeration

Ice users suffered none of the discomforts of an undersupply of ice. Regular deliveries in any desired quantity gave our customers an abundance of ice for drinks and table use. Many of those depending upon mechanical refrigeration could not say as much.

Thousands of Emergency Calls from Mechanical Users

Last summer; again this summer; we received thousands of calls for ice from users of mechanical refrigeration. Under the severe strain of a continuous hot spell (when ice and refrigeration is needed most) these people found that mechanical refrigeration fell short. We were glad to be of service to these people.

The hotter the weather, the more severe is the test of refrigeration methods. Again this summer comes the proof that Ice supplies the only dependable, automatic and low cost method of home refrigeration.

DEAF OF FOUR STATES TO MEET

Interpreter to Convey Speeches and Songs in Sign Language.
MONETT, Mo., July 23.—The deaf of Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Kansas will meet here Friday, Saturday and Sunday for a religious and social convention. Mrs. D. E. Britz, Springfield, Mo., is president of the organization. This will be the fifth time the convention has been held here. The religious services will be conducted by the Rev. A. O. Wilson of Atlanta, Ga., and the Rev. J. W. Michaels of Fort Worth, Tex. An interpreter with command of the sign language will take the platform with each speaker or singer and interpret the words for the benefit of the totally deaf.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some faint smudges and discoloration, characteristic of old paper. A dark vertical strip is visible along the right edge, suggesting the binding or gutter of the book.

STOCK MARKET

IS VERY SLOW,
BUT CLOSING
TONE STEADY

Results of the Seven-Power
London Conference Fail to Clarify Atmosphere in Wall Street—Sales Small,
With One Exception,
in 5 Years.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 23.—Wall street was left perplexed and uncertain by the decision of the seven-power London conference, and the stock market lapsed into a state of lethargy comparable to that of Monday.

Share prices fluctuated uncertainly sagging a little in the morning, recovering moderately for a time in the afternoon, and easing off again in the late trading. The market closed with narrow and for the most part negligible changes.

The market experienced the dullest full session in five years, today, with the single exception of last Monday.

The day's turnover was 760,630 shares, against Monday's turnover of 718,440, the lowest for a five-hour session since May 6, 1926.

Foreign bonds were again heavy,
but the German Government issues recovered a little after substantial drops in the early trading. Foreign exchanges generally stiffened in response to the higher Bank of England rate, but sterling failed to get back above the gold point.

Sterling is Higher.
A few shares closed a point or two higher, including Eastman,
Johns-Manville, Sears-Robuck,
Montgomery Ward and Safeway Stores. Small fractional losses were shown by such issues as United States Steel, American Telephone,
American Can, General Electric,
Westinghouse and du Pont.

Sterling cables failed to recover
all of yesterday's loss, but got up 7-16 of a cent to $4.84. Pressure against sterling was lightened and that currency declined on New York, ruling 9 1/16 for cables off 11-16. The German mark was nominally quoted 4 1/2 of a cent higher at 23 1/2. The Dutch florin was firm.

Wall street was not unprepared for the increase in the Bank of England rate, in fact was more surprised when the rate was not increased a week ago. Yesterday's advisors from London had indicated that it might not be increased until next week, but the sharp losses of gold, it was felt here, made an eventual upturn certain.

This development was nonetheless somewhat depressing. It represented the first important reversal of the downward tendency in money rates which has been in progress since the stock market crash of late 1929.

Domestic Developments.
The European situation is still too menacing for Wall Street to turn its full attention to domestic news, but the financial community has been considerably encouraged by the second quarter earnings statements thus far appearing.
Montgomery Ward reported itself out of the red for the first time in several months, showing a profit of $407,706 for the second quarter, against a loss of $1,783,674 in the first quarter. National Cash Register also showed a net profit of 72 cents per share for the second quarter, against a deficit in the first quarter. The General Motor quarterly statement reported a net profit of $12.2 a share, was closely in keeping with forecasts, but was regarded as highly favorable, showing an annual gain of 8 cents a share over the operating profit reported for the like period of 1930.

Credit conditions remained stationary, and bankers said that the Bank of England's rate increase should not be interpreted as foreshadowing any change in the Federal Reserve Bank rate, now at 1 1/2 per cent.

BANK OF ENGLAND RAISES
RATE TO 3 1/2 FROM 2 1/2 PCT.
By the Associated Press.
LONDON, July 23.—The bank rate was raised today from two and one-half per cent to three and one-half per cent.

The increase in the bank rate was decided upon by the directors of the Bank of England as a protective measure, made necessary because of the outflow of gold which, during the week ended yesterday, totaled $15,219,704 (about $74,000,000).

SAYS NATURAL GAS WILL NOT BE CHEAPER FOR SMALL USERS

UTILITY Engineer Tells Illinois Commission Increased Volume Will Reduce Costs.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 22.—Substitution of natural gas for manufactured gas in Springfield and Peoria will mean no substantial reduction in costs for small consumers, the Illinois Commerce Commission was informed Tuesday.

In answer to questions put by attorney for the Illinois Power Co., J. A. Brown, gas engineer of the power company and the Central Illinois Light Co., admitted substitution of natural gas for part of the artificial gas used in Springfield will not result in any considerable decrease in costs.

Brown hastened to add, however, that costs will be reduced for the domestic consumer if the volume of business expands. He also said that promotional rates would be offered to induce the added use of gas for heating purposes.

Corporation Counsel Charles Dickman, Peoria, by his questions attempted to show small consumers of gas would receive no rate reduction if natural gas is introduced, while the large user will receive lower rates than those now charged for similar service.

Hearing on the natural gas case was continued until Aug. 5.

Enough Canada Dry in three months to float a battle cruiser

3,830,835 gallons of ginger ale. Each gallon weighs 8.6 lbs., making a total weight of 32,945,181 pounds of Canada Dry, which reduced to tons equals 16,472 tons. The displacement of the U. S. S. Concord, one of our finest cruisers, is 10,000 tons. The amount of Canada Dry sold would float the U. S. S. Concord with plenty to spare.

EVERYWHERE almost every one is drinking The Champagne of Ginger Ales. In three months enough Canada Dry has been sold to lift the U. S. S. Concord off her keel, and still have some left.

The reasons are simple. First. At its new low price, Canada Dry is the outstanding value in ginger ales today. It didn't take people long to find that out.

Second. Canada Dry is more convenient. Because now there are two sizes—the familiar twelve-ounce size for individual use, and the new large size containing five full glasses for family enjoyment and parties. And last but not least—because Canada Dry is The Champagne of Ginger Ales ... as fine a beverage as human skill can make. Its wonderful flavor, its keen delight and lasting carbonation are all extra values.

Remember Canada Dry in hot weather. Order the handy Hostess Packages for your pantry.

If you ask my opinion

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for a personal reply.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I am a motherless girl of 18. My past and my present are full of nothing but work—beginning at the age of 9. My father is out of a job and now is doing nothing. When I come home from work the house is dirty, dishes left unwashed, furniture undusted and, in fact, I am so ashamed of everything that I spend my evening cleaning. I have given my father all I make except two or three dollars. Don't you think he should exert himself to help me around the house with the cleaning?

I have raised a little brother, too. I am not the modern kind of girl. I do not smoke, gamble or flirt. I can sew, cook, operate a typewriter and do many kinds of office work. I am 5 feet 1 inch and weigh 100 pounds.

WORRIED.
I am not surprised that you are rebellious and it is hard to understand how a strong man can allow a little woman like you to work all day, then come home and do the housework when he has no employment and could so well do it all. Laziness is often combined with an absence of shame in this way.

First, try to do the marketing and make the necessary expenditures for the house if he has no income. Let him see you are taking it into your own hands. Let him ask for money for his needs and, if you see fit, give him the exact amount—no more. Save the other, if any is left, for a savings account, a new coat for winter or something else you need. And tell him exactly that—that you are saving it for a definite purpose and stick to it. Perhaps when he feels the pinch (and the mortification) of the lack of money, he may be spurred into work. Also tell him you expect the house to look at least decent when you get home.

DEAR MRS. CARR: It really burns me up to see how many fellows claim to like these "Home Girls." Why then do they go out with them instead of going to a dance hall and finding a girl?

I am not condemning them for liking the home girls, but I do think their ideas of false modesty and their smug, sarcastic remarks about some girls should be left unsaid. Do they all think us terrible creatures because we fail to sit at home and wait for "Prince Charming"? Don't you think that idea of "the man of your dreams" coming along and finding you behind the curtains reading a good old English novel, is all a lot of hooey? I like reading, too. I like dancing, riding, was captain of three teams in school and I still believe that 85 per cent of the girls in St. Louis when they dance, enjoy it to the hilt. Don't you, Mrs. Carr? What is your idea of it? Please print this for the benefit of "Home Girl" and "A Man." Where do you go to find men of "real value?"

MONA.
No, this is not a day when the heroine sits around forlornly and delicately awaits "Prince Charming." The slogan of the modern girl is, "Do something and be somebody." It is all right and as it should be, it seems to me, for women to look after their domestic duties first. But machinery has made it possible for them to eliminate some of the back-breaking and nerve-exhausting features of it, so that they can get to other things.

The idea that there is virtue in eschewing athletics and sports is as antiquated as hoop-skirts. The only argument might be brought about from the standpoint of health—and this only when they are overdone. And a girl who doesn't enjoy dancing either has no rhythm or music in her or she is unnatural.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I have been going with a young man on and off for a year. He is a nice person and a perfect gentleman and can't do enough for me, but somehow he just doesn't fit. I like him, but know that I could never love him. The family admire him like him so much, though they would never insist upon any plan for me for the future if it didn't desire it. He asks me for dates all the time and if I say I don't care to go to the show, then he doesn't either. I want to keep his friendship, but I just can't like him, and knowing that it must stop sooner or later, think I should stop it now.

My feeling may have been caused by a romance I had with another man, only to find out later that he was married.

PUEZZED.
I have used just an excerpt from your letter, which I am sure no one will recognize, because it goes,

The Little Known Mrs. Mussolini

Five children require just as much care in a palace as in a cottage, and the wife of Mussolini, shown here holding her youngest, finds her time fully occupied in their care. She eschews all social activities, and her days of recreation are her visits to her homeland in the north of Italy.

ROME, July 21.
SIGNORA MUSSOLINI, wife of Il Duce, is perhaps the most secluded woman in Italy, and certainly among the least known of the wives of the world's great men. While the fame and name of her powerful husband carry round the world, her own renown is confined within the four walls of her home.

No one in Italy speaks of Rachele Mussolini. Very few know anything about her. The wife of a Prime Minister in any other country is a person of national note, perhaps a "first lady of the land." But not in Italy.

Il Duce has ordered inflexibly that his wife and children are not to mingle or be mingled in his political life.

"My wife and family are my dearest possessions," he said, "but so greatly do I treasure them that I keep them apart from my day as something refreshing to go to when I have a moment in which to rest."

It is only in the last year or so that Signora Mussolini has lived with her husband in Rome. Here, before she was tucked away in their little home town of Carpena, in the north.

Yet day after day, in her own simple way, Donna Rachele fulfills her task, which can't help but be difficult, as wife of Italy's Prime Minister.

She is mistress of their elaborate home, the Villa Torlonia, on the Via Nomentana, in a suburb to the northeast of the city.

This is a big home, and a considerable responsibility. Signora Mussolini looks after it carefully, checking minutely the purchases and accounts, never forgetting the day when a few cents meant a whole day's pay.

She is the mother of five children. One, Edda, is married, but four live at home. Two of them, Romano and Anna Maria, are too young to go to school.

There are no social duties connected with Donna Rachele's life. Her husband does not take her to state dinners or receptions. She does not entertain the political or diplomatic world.

She goes to see very few friends, and receives few friends at her villa. She is protected from importunate visitors by the villa guards. The last time she was seen at a public function was at the wedding of her daughter Edda to Count Galeazzo Ciano, more than a year ago.

What does she do to fill up her life? She does what any wife of a hard-working husband and mother of four lusty children would do.

At 7 in the morning she gets up and supervises the breakfast. She sees Vittorio and Bruno off to school at 7:45, and her husband off for his office at 8. She takes care to keep them apart from my day as something refreshing to go to when I have a moment in which to rest.

She then makes out the list of purchases for the day, and the menu for luncheon. Her husband and sons are home at 1:30 for luncheon, and leave again around 3.

In the afternoon she frequently goes automobile riding and shopping. Rachele Mussolini's chief enjoyment is "fare le spese," or doing her own buying.

Occasionally, but not often, she stops at this or that friend's house. She gets home in time to welcome Vittorio and Bruno returning from school, and to put Romano and Anna Maria to bed.

Then comes dinner, at 8 o'clock. Her social activity in these little towns is in starting contrast to that in Rome, where she seldom goes out or has visitors, never goes to state dinners or receptions and never gives them.

She knows the people of these towns much better than she knows the people of Rome because it was only little more than a year ago that she came to Rome to live here steadily.

DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bommer

Golden Eagles

JOHN and Peggy saw an enormous nest, built with large sticks as the nest of the bald eagles had been, but with small evergreen branches. Inside they saw some lovely creamy eggs with splashes of brown and dark gray.

The Little Black Clock had turned the time back, but now he was turning it forward and they saw some of the most beautiful birds they had ever seen.

"You've met the bald eagles once or twice," began the Little Black Clock, "and these are the golden eagles, their cousins."

"They are marvelous-looking!" John exclaimed as he saw them flying about and standing on a branch.

"What beautiful feathers!" Peggy said.

They were a dark, rich brown, and around their necks the feathers were deep gold. The feathers on their legs were of a russet shade of brown and their tails were sprinkled with white feathers.

They were a little larger than their bald eagle cousins, and although the younger ones did not have rich, dark feathers of their elders, the Clock said they would when older.

"We won't bother them," said the Little Black Clock, "as they are very shy."

"They live farther away from people than the bald eagles do. They will never hurt people as long as they are left alone."

"Of course, if we disturbed them at their meals they would not like it, and if they were wounded they'd show their anger, which is only natural, but they only ask to be left to themselves. And I think they are fair and right in what they want."

The Modern Girl Becomes Old-Fashioned

PARIS, July 21.

BRIGHT silk sashes are growing more important in the dressy afternoon mode.

A number of white chiffon and mousseline frocks for formal afternoon wear are girdled by narrow pastel blue or green satin sashes, some of which end in long floating streamers in the back.

The mode offers opportunity for a wide range of expression in the individual taste of the wearer, and to lighten the severity of white with a gay bit of color.

Survey on Married Teachers

THE American Federation of Teachers intends to keep the school teaching profession open to married women.

It is conducting a nation-wide survey to ascertain the scope of movements to bar married women from public school teaching jobs and to weigh reactions of teachers and citizens to the move.

The federation, says Mrs. Florence Curtis Hanson of Chicago, secretary, is opposed to what it terms "this unfair discrimination." It holds that teaching qualifications should be based entirely on character and ability, not on social status.

"We are continually receiving protests and inquiries from all parts of the country concerning the other repressive regulations to teachers," Mrs. Hanson says.

"Regulations as to clothes, morning going, lateness of evening hours and other personal habits are imposed on teachers in some states."

"In their fight against all sorts of restriction and repression the teachers have the support of the federation, for we believe that character is not a thing that can be cultivated by restriction and regulations."

Employment of married women as "substitute" teachers and having them work the full school year at the substitute's wage is another thing the federation would wipe out.

It is Mrs. Hanson's opinion that the reduction of salary comes through this means has been the principal motive for the recent movement to cut married teachers from the active teaching lists.

Warmed-over Biscuits
The best way to warm over biscuits and have them just as good as when fresh is to put them in a pan and set the pan in another pan containing water. Heat for a few minutes in a hot oven.

Carvers, Heed!
When a cut of meat includes portions choice and those less desirable, such as a sirloin steak, try to serve a little of each to each person. It proves what a good carver you are as well as dividing things up more evenly.

Perfumed Dishwashing
When the bar of toilet soap becomes thin, break it in half and put it in the kitchen soap shaker. Then you will have a pleasant dash for dishwashing.

Blue Very Popular
Sport styles have the blues. Almost every daytime costume adds a touch of blue for luck and looks. Bright blue jackets are worn over light blue blouses and white blue belts, hats, scarves and bags are favorite accessories for pale lemon yellow or shell pink sport dresses.

One quart of salad will serve about eight or nine persons.

CREDIT JOY RIDE' GIVEN AS CAUSE OF HOTEL'S TROUBLES

Lionberger Davis, Witness in Mayfair Suit, Explains Property Was Soundly Financed.

OPERATING LOSS IN 17 MONTHS $111,706 from 1924 to Latter Part of 1929 Business Was a Success, Director Testifies.

Financial troubles of the Mayfair Hotel, being aired in a receivership suit, were attributed largely to a "credit joy ride," by J. Lionberger Davis, chairman of the Mayfair National Bank, in testimony yesterday in Judge Hogan's court. Davis is a director and vice president of the Mayfair Investment Co., which owns the title and operated the hotel until it was taken over June 27 by trustees under the terms of a trust agreement of $1,600,000.

The case on trial was the intervening plea of Lester Bick, a bondholder, filed in the equity foreclosure suit instituted by the trustees. Bick petitioned for appointment of a receiver, alleging the trustees were so closely associated with the investment house of S. W. Straus & Co. of Chicago, which underwrote the bond issue, as to be unable to act impartially.

Bick's attorney, Ben L. Shifrin, filed Davis as a witness and questioned him as to conferences held with S. W. Straus & Co. concerning defaults in monthly deposits by the hotel company for payment of maturing bonds. Davis testified that $55,000 on the bonds matured last July 1 and that the hotel company had failed by about $25,000 to deposit sufficient funds to pay them.

Hotel Success Until 1929.

Counsel for the Straus company, opposing appointment of a receiver, led Davis, "to what do you attribute the troubles of the Mayfair hotel?"

"To two things, the credit joy ride of the last few years and the business depression," Davis replied, "added that until the latter part of 1929 the hotel, which was erected at Eighth and St. Charles streets in 1924, had been 'extraordinarily successful.'"

Davis did not explain on the stand what he meant by the credit joy ride, but to a Post-Dispatch reporter he said he referred to the general condition of credit inflation which prevailed during the war, with the resultant inflation. He said in his opinion the Mayfair was soundly financed and was not inflated.

It was stated recently in a report of the Real Estate Securities Committee of the Investment Bankers' Association of America that many so-called real estate bond issues of the last few years were based on highly inflated property appraisals, making the securities unable to withstand adversity and resulting in many defaults.

Efforts of Attorney Shifrin to bring out the value of the Mayfair property in relation to the amount of the bond issue were objected to by counsel for the Straus company and sustained by the court.

"Real Estate Gold Bonds."

It had been testified previously that the Straus company had quoted him, in a letter dated July 2, a bid price of $36 on the $100 par value of the bonds. When these bonds were sold at par they were described as "first mortgage real estate gold bonds."

Testimony of Sidney S. Cohen, certified public accountant, was that the company's assets of the hotel company are $1,567,351 after appreciation, and that the amount of the bonds still outstanding is $1,420,000. Cohen testified that from Jan. 1, 1930, to June 1, this year, the hotel had incurred an operating loss of $111,706.

Cohen was questioned as to the amount of commission deducted from the construction loan by Straus & Co. at the time the bond issue was negotiated. Objection by the Straus company's counsel to his line of questioning was sustained. Cohen later told a Post-Dispatch reporter the hotel company received as proceeds of the bond $30 on the $100 par value, which would have given the investment house a discount of 11 percent as its commission. The interest rate is 6 1/2 per cent.

Barnard M. Struchiner, a real estate dealer and appraiser, testified that Bick had the present value of the hotel building and ground is $1,400,000, but he made no allowance for the furniture and the furnishings and equipment of the hotel.

Taking of testimony in the case was closed yesterday but it is to be argued later. Counsel for Straus & Co. stated that because of the importance of the case they desired a full day for argument and Judge Hogan said it probably would have to go over until September.

The case on trial was the intervening plea of Lester Bick, a bondholder, filed in the equity foreclosure suit instituted by the trustees. Bick petitioned for appointment of a receiver, alleging the trustees were so closely associated with the investment house of S. W. Straus & Co. of Chicago, which underwrote the bond issue, as to be unable to act impartially.

Bick's attorney, Ben L. Shifrin, filed Davis as a witness and questioned him as to conferences held with S. W. Straus & Co. concerning defaults in monthly deposits by the hotel company for payment of maturing bonds. Davis testified that $55,000 on the bonds matured last July 1 and that the hotel company had failed by about $25,000 to deposit sufficient funds to pay them.

Hotel Success Until 1929.

Counsel for the Straus company, opposing appointment of a receiver, led Davis, "to what do you attribute the troubles of the Mayfair hotel?"

"To two things, the credit joy ride of the last few years and the business depression," Davis replied, "added that until the latter part of 1929 the hotel, which was erected at Eighth and St. Charles streets in 1924, had been 'extraordinarily successful.'"

Davis did not explain on the stand what he meant by the credit joy ride, but to a Post-Dispatch reporter he said he referred to the general condition of credit inflation which prevailed during the war, with the resultant inflation. He said in his opinion the Mayfair was soundly financed and was not inflated.

It was stated recently in a report of the Real Estate Securities Committee of the Investment Bankers' Association of America that many so-called real estate bond issues of the last few years were based on highly inflated property appraisals, making the securities unable to withstand adversity and resulting in many defaults.

Efforts of Attorney Shifrin to bring out the value of the Mayfair property in relation to the amount of the bond issue were objected to by counsel for the Straus company and sustained by the court.

"Real Estate Gold Bonds."

It had been testified previously that the Straus company had quoted him, in a letter dated July 2, a bid price of $36 on the $100 par value of the bonds. When these bonds were sold at par they were described as "first mortgage real estate gold bonds."

Testimony of Sidney S. Cohen, certified public accountant, was that the company's assets of the hotel company are $1,567,351 after appreciation, and that the amount of the bonds still outstanding is $1,420,000. Cohen testified that from Jan. 1, 1930, to June 1, this year, the hotel had incurred an operating loss of $111,706.

Cohen was questioned as to the amount of commission deducted from the construction loan by Straus & Co. at the time the bond issue was negotiated. Objection by the Straus company's counsel to his line of questioning was sustained. Cohen later told a Post-Dispatch reporter the hotel company received as proceeds of the bond $30 on the $100 par value, which would have given the investment house a discount of 11 percent as its commission. The interest rate is 6 1/2 per cent.

Barnard M. Struchiner, a real estate dealer and appraiser, testified that Bick had the present value of the hotel building and ground is $1,400,000, but he made no allowance for the furniture and the furnishings and equipment of the hotel.

Taking of testimony in the case was closed yesterday but it is to be argued later. Counsel for Straus & Co. stated that because of the importance of the case they desired a full day for argument and Judge Hogan said it probably would have to go over until September.
